Replica Of Berlin Wall Blocking U.S. Highway

. . . MOTORISTS APPLAUD, GRUMBLE

Richmond, Ind. (P)—A replica of the Berlin wall was erected in the middle of busy U.S. 40 here Tuesday, bringing both applause and grumbling from motorists.

In the single-file traffic passing the barricade through the curb lanes, volunteers heard varied reaction as they handed out fancy copies of the Bill of Rights to emphasize the contrast between the wall and American freedom.

A woman in an eastbound car bearing Missouri license plates protested, "what are you trying to do — scare us to death before we get to Washington?"

"I'm glad this is only make-believe," said another motorist.

Or, "it's a good thing to let people here really know."

Shorter wall sections block part of the sidewalk on each side of the street and pamphlets also were handed to pedestrians.

Volunteers stacked up 500 concrete blocks into an un-mortared wall in the street two feet thick, 6 feet high and 16 feet long, topped with barbed wire two feet higher.

Signs Explain

Signs printed in German and English were the only explanation for strangers driving through downtown Richmond, 4 miles west of the Ohio border.

"Achtung!" one said. "You are now leaving the Eastern zone."

Richmond citizens themselves weren't agreed on the value of the demonstration, sponsored by the Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce. Some letters to the editor in the Richmond Palladium-Item praised the project; others called it "a frivolous approach to a serious problem."

Far More Cruel

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin cabled: "The wall in Berlin is far more cruel than any replica could be. We regard your gesture as a token of solidarity."

The wall is to be knocked down by an M41 National Guard tank as a closing ceremony at 4 p.m. CST Thursday. Then a squad of infantrymen from Richmond's National Guard company will make symbolic charge through the toppled remains of the wall.

The wall blocks a little less than half of the 44-foot street, which carries heavy local traffic, as well as through trucks. Much of the through traffic use a passenger car bypass routed over parallel one-way streets one block to each side of Main Street.

. . . Chinese Call Khrushchev A Weakling

—REDS PRESENT NEW PROPOSALS—

Constructive Meeting Held On Cuban Crisis

United Nations, N.Y. (P)—Soviet and U.S. representatives held another long meeting on the Cuban crisis Tuesday which Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson described as "constructive." A U.S. spokesman said there was a feeling "some slight progress was made."

The conference, lasting 3 hours and 40 minutes, took place after the Soviet Union and Cuba had presented new proposals to acting Secretary-General U Thant reportedly injecting the Guantanamo Naval Base into the negotiations.

The U.S. spokesman would not confirm or deny that the new Soviet-Cuban formula was taken up in the meeting with U.S. officials. Stevenson offered the comment that the talks "served to identify and clarify the positions of both countries on the unresolved issues."

These presumably included not only U.S. demands that the Soviet Union withdraw its IL-28 bombers from Cuba and permit on-site inspection of dismantled Soviet missile sites, but also the reported new proposals for U.S. withdrawal from Guantanamo and the end of the U.S. naval arms quarantine.

Taking part in Tuesday afternoon's meeting in addition to Stevenson were his Security Council deputy, Ambassador Charles W. Yost; John J. McCloy, chairman of President Kennedy's Cuban coordinating committee, and Soviet Deputy Foreign Ministers Vasily V. Kuznetsov and Valerian A. Zorin.

Asked whether the American negotiators had pressed new U.S. demands, agreed on in Washington, for removal of the Soviet bombers, the spokesman said it could be assumed that the U.S. position was stated.

RED CROSS CALLS OFF SEA CHECK

Geneva (P)—The International Red Cross Committee has decided not to participate at present in any control of ships sailing to Cuba, it was authoritatively learned Tuesday.

Reliable sources said the committee withdrew from the control project because two of its basic conditions were not met:

—The Red Cross intervention, far-removed from the committee's traditional tasks, was no longer vitally necessary for the maintenance of world peace.

—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro failed to give his explicit and unconditional approval to the scheme.

More Talks

Stevenson will see Thant Wednesday morning to report on the U.S. - Soviet talks and to get a fill-in from the secretary-general on other developments.

The Soviet-Cuban formula stemmed apparently from the talks Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has been holding with Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Havana.

Reliable sources said there was nothing especially new in the Soviet-Cuban formula and it seemed certain the United States would reject it.

The informants described the proposals as based on the 5 demands made earlier by Castro. These included withdrawal of the United States from Guantanamo, an end to the U.S. naval blockade, and adoption of measures by the United States to prevent hostile activity against Cuba by exile groups.

L. GORDON COOPER JR.

Cooper Is Picked For Next Orbit

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (P)—A "very delighted" astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr. Tuesday was named to take the United States' next big step in the man-in-space race—a full day flight scheduled next April.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced selection of the 35-year-old Air Force major to make the 24-hour, 18-orbit flight.

Cooper, contacted after a day of work at Cape Canaveral, said he was "very delighted that I have been chosen. I've been working toward this goal for a long time."

Cooper, nicknamed "Gordo" by his fellow astronauts, said he will work closely with engineers and scientists in the next few months in preparation for the space voyage. He said the flight plan already was fairly well established.

At the Cooper home in Houston, his wife Trudy said she was "very happy and pleased" with the selection.

Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first American to ride a rocket into space, was named Cooper's backup pilot. Shepard made a 15-minute suborbital space trip on May 5, 1961.

Cooper, a native of Shawnee, Okla., was the standby pilot on the recent 6-orbit flight of spaceman Walter M. Schirra Jr. Schirra's flight is the longest American manned space mission to date.

Cooper is the only eligible member of the 7-man Mercury astronaut team who has not made a space flight.

Claim Policy 'Soft'

Worsened Relations Seen

By ROY ESSOYAN

Hong Kong (P)—Chinese communist officials have told Westerners in Hong Kong that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is an opportunist, a weakling and a traitor to the communist cause.

These are surprisingly frank charges for Chinese communist officials to make. They indicate Soviet-Chinese relations have taken a sharp turn for the worse.

There appears little doubt they will get even more rancorous when the charges get back to the Kremlin. The Chinese communist officials gave every indication they fully expected their remarks to be reported.

Criticism of Khrushchev and his allegedly "soft" policies toward the West has been growing in Red China over the past few months. High party officials have denounced Khrushchev and his policies at secret off-the-record briefings for select groups, according to reliable informants from mainland China.

But this is the first time the Chinese communists have approached Western newsmen with their complaints.

The burden of these complaints is that Khrushchev has cut off aid to Red China because he is afraid Red China will eventually overtake the Soviet Union.

"Khrushchev is as jealous of China's growing strength as only a bourgeois woman could be," a European newsmen here quoted one of the Chinese communist officials as saying.

The official was also quoted as saying Khrushchev pulled back from his Cuban adventure not for fear of possible American reaction but for fear of what the Russian people would do.

"If there is war the Soviet government will be destroyed by the Russian people and not American nuclear bombs," the official added.

The Chinese communists branded Khrushchev a "weakling" because of his behavior over Cuba.

They also said the Soviet people had been betrayed by Khrushchev's "policy of abundance"—a reference to Khrushchev's "pie in the sky" promises to the Russian people which, they said, have not and cannot be fulfilled in the near future.

Education Dept. Seeks Big Hike

. . . IN GENERAL FUND

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The State Department of Education Tuesday submitted its 1963-65 budget request in which it seeks a total of $21,417,367 in all funds, including $5,785,558 in property tax-supported general funds, an increase of 35% over the general fund appropriation for 1961-63.

State Education Commissioner Dr. Floyd Miller said the requested increase was necessary for the department to keep the staff it has and to add to its professional staff "if the State Board and Department of Education is to carry out its leadership role in providing effective education in Nebraska."

A breakdown of the figures in the overall budget request for the next biennium shows the department is asking for $6,990,802 in federal funds; $1,095,181 in cash funds; $5,785,558 in general funds; $7,306,750 in trust funds, and $239,776 in revolving funds.

Change In Method

Deputy State Education Commissioner Stanley Hawley said this is the first time the department has listed trust and revolving funds in its budget request, but stated that the overall $21.4 million shown for the next biennium compares with $20,717,553 appropriated for all of these funds for the 1961-63 biennium.

The only other comparative figures given were on the important general fund monies which showed that the $5.7 million request compares with $4,265,050 appropriated for 1961-63, and $4,178,238 estimated expenditures from these funds this biennium.

Most of the $82,812 estimated balance in general funds from this biennium will come from the money appropriated to implement the new program for trainable mentally retarded children authorized by the 1961 Legislature.

Only a few school districts were able to participate in the program this biennium, it was noted.

Heavy Turnover

Commenting on the need for salary increases for its present staff, Dr. Miller said the department has lost 45 key personnel through resignations in the past 10 years which amounts to a 90% turnover.

"In all instances salary increases, some as high as 70%, were decisive factors," he said, adding that "coupled closely with this was concern for the future of education in Nebraska, for 20 staff members found better opportunities in other states."

Included among the expansions in staff requested in the budget are two full-time persons to work on school district reorganization; a consultant in adult education; a consultant for junior high schools; one for junior colleges, and specialists in science and mathematics, industrial education, and homemaking.

All of these are necessary for the state to provide leadership in these fields, the commissioner said.

In addition to these 9 new personnel, the department is asking for 22 more staff members for the Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Millard "to meet the capacity of the new plant the 1961 Legislature provided us."

In addition to personal services, a sizeable portion of the general fund request—$1,193,000—would go to reimbursements for local schools districts for special education services to both trainable and educable mentally retarded youngsters and physically handicapped children.

This amounts to an increase of $538,839 over current appropriations for these purposes.

Council Denies Negro Tavern Transfer

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Tuesday denied the Grenemeier's Inc. application for an off-sale beer license at 220 No. 10th.

The unanimous council resolution now goes as a recommendation to the State Liquor Control Commission for final determination.

Grenemeier's Inc. proposes to acquire the beer license held by Mrs. Vivian E. Robinson for Jim's Bar and Grill at 223 No. 9th, the city's only Negro-operated beer tavern.

City Safety Director Emmett Junge advised the council that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grenemeier, the corporation's owners, also hold a package liquor license for 222 No. 10th.

Policy Cited

He noted council policy since 1944 has prohibited liquor ownership of beer and liquor licenses except for hotels and private clubs.

Attorney Fritz Wagener, representing Grenemeier, said the Negro tavern "is losing money at its present location" and noted the council recently turned down a zoning change for its relocation to 22nd and P.

Wagener said the $9,500 stated consideration for the license transfer includes the return of the 223 No. 9th lease to Grenemeier, who owns the business property.

Wagener said Mrs. Robinson, and her husband, Wright, are "indebted to Grenemeier on the lease."

When Mayor Pat Boyles observed that $9,500 consideration "is only one-half to one-third of what beer licenses have been bringing," Wagener stated: "Nothing is being paid under the table."

Dealers Opposed

Attorney Norman Langemach said the Lincoln Beer Dealers Association opposes the license transfer because a liquor dealer also would be in the beer business and because individuals or partnerships, not corporations, should be license holders for more responsible operation.

Langemach said some association members are interested in continuing the license as a tavern for Negroes, but would seek a better location.

He said the group would not acquire the license personally, but would "financially back" the person who would operate the Negro tavern.

Effort Called Silly

However, Wagener labeled as "just plain silly" any effort to keep the tavern for a "particular segment of Lincoln's population."

"We're not a segregated city," he said.

In other action, the council agreed to a 60-day extension for the removal of 3 small houses at 22nd and P condemned by the council as health and safety hazards.

Robinson said two houses are vacant, but the third is still occupied because of difficulty in relocating one family.

This was the proposed tavern site that the council reserved for business, but reversed a week later on a reconsideration move.

O'Kelly Denies Murder

. . . CASE WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Dennis O'Kelly, whose second-degree murder trial will go to the jury Wednesday, testified Tuesday he did not commit the crime with which he is charged.

He said he was convinced after police questioning that he had killed his 19-year-old girl friend, Barbara Eastman, and that "I was crazy or something."

"But I know I didn't kill Barbara," the 21-year-old defendant stated.

'Convinced' Later

O'Kelly said that he was still "convinced" that he had committed the crime when he talked to his attorney the day after his apprehension, and two weeks later when he was interviewed by Dr. James Reinhardt, professor of criminology at the University of Nebraska.

On cross-examination, County Attorney Paul Douglas asked the defendant to explain why he asked police if his arrest had anything to do with the body which had been found at Oak Lake.

O'Kelly said he was "just curious" since a body had been found.

"Did you confess to any robberies or burglaries that night or ask about any," Douglas asked the defendant.

"That never entered my mind," O'Kelly replied.

Drs. Janet Palmer and

Robert J. Stein, psychiatrists testifying for the defense and prosecution, respectively, said O'Kelly has "sociopathic disturbances" but is not mentally ill or legally insane.

Basing their opinions on their examinations of the defendant, they said he knows right from wrong and understands the nature of his acts.

Dr. Palmer said that O'Kelly acts on impulse and is "apt to do anything to reduce tension."

"If he did kill the girl, he did so in a panic state in my opinion," she said.

Questions Posed

In response to hypothetical questions based on facts leading up to O'Kelly's confessions, both Dr. Stein and Dr. S. D. Kaplan, clinical psychologist, testified for the state that their examinations led them to believe the defendant would not—under those circumstances—admit a crime he did not commit.

Dr. Stein said on cross-examination by defense attorney Richard Vesteka that a disturbed person such as the defendant is "not likely to give in to a forceful person."

He further stated that certain details of an act with such "trauma" as a murder could be "foggy" as O'Kelly said in his written confession and he "might be emotionally aroused, but wouldn't admit to a crime he didn't commit."

Dr. David Levine, clinical psychologist, testified for the defense that O'Kelly "tends to respond passively to demands made upon him" and that he "could" have admitted a crime he didn't commit.

The jury is expected to be charged by Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele after closing arguments Wednesday morning.

Reasonably Warm Wednesday Due

Another reasonably warm day is expected for most of Nebraska Wednesday.

Highs are expected to range from the 50s in the Panhandle to the 60s east and central. Skies are to be partly cloudy.

The state high Tuesday was 74 at Valentine. Imperial had the low of 20. Lincoln reported 70 and 36.

Budget Heads For $7.8 Billion Deficit

Washington (P)—The Kennedy administration said Tuesday the federal budget is headed for a $7.8 billion deficit—the second largest in peacetime.

The figure is somewhat higher than officials had indicated earlier. And it was a far cry from the January forecast of a $500-million surplus.

A Budget Bureau announcement placed most of the responsibility for the sea of red ink on Congress, a sluggish economy, and the administration's own changes in tax policy.

Not Damaging

Emphasized was an official view that the big deficit would not damage the economy. "With the existing level of unemployment and unused plant capacity," the Budget Bureau said, "the deficit is neither inflationary nor dangerous to our balance of payments position."

Cuba had little impact on the revised estimates for the 1963 fiscal year that began July 1. The bureau said that if the situation does not worsen, the Cuban crisis will cost about $100 million. It termed this "the roughest kind of allowance."

Revenue Off

Revenues for fiscal 1963 were put at $85.9 billion—$7.1 billion lower than the level foreseen when President Kennedy first sent the budget to Congress last January. The bureau said the sharp drop was due to "the slower-than-expected rate of economic recovery and changes in tax laws and regulations."

Record peacetime spending of $93.7 billion was predicted. This is $1.2 billion higher than the January forecast—an increase attributed to congressional changes in administrative bills to boost postal rates and overhaul the farm program. Higher interest charges on a bigger-than-expected national debt also played a part, adding $400 million to the spending forecast.

Surprisingly, the revised figures showed no change in military outlays, still figured at $48.3 billion.

Optimistic

On at least one count, the document struck a relatively optimistic note.

The bureau said the Gross National Product—the value of total output—is estimated now in the range of $554 billion for 1962. To achieve this, the total would have to rise by $8 billion, on an annual basis, in these last three months of the year. That would be the largest quarterly gain since the fall of 1961. A smaller increase presumably would mean a larger deficit.

Soviet Farm Output Falls Short

Several Crops Under 1962 Goals

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF
Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Union will fall short of planned goals this year in the production of several farm commodities, Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev reported Tuesday.

Khrushchev's report, as of Nov. 10 to the ruling Presidium of the Communist Party, was published Tuesday in the communist newspaper Pravda. It listed reductions in overall production of sugar beets, sunflowers and potatoes, and moderate increases in the output of milk and meat.

The premier said the government will procure grain "on the level" of deliveries in 1958, a bumper harvest year.

Deliveries to State Only

This referred to grain deliveries to the state, which are governed by administrative decision. It did not necessarily mean the 1962 grain crop had approached the 1958 harvest.

Pravda said Monday the 1962 grain harvest would surpass that of 1961, but did not give any comparison with 1958.

Western observers expect the agricultural problem will be on the agenda Monday at a meeting of Khrushchev and other top leaders on the Communist Central Committee.

Khrushchev said in his report the government expects to procure about 6.2 million tons of grain this year, compared with 5.7 million in 1961. However, the planned procurement figure announced by chief state planner Vladimir Novikov last Dec. 6 was between 6.9 and 7.03 million tons.

In the case of cotton, the overall 1961 production of 4.5 million metric tons was smaller than the planned figure of 5.132 million.

Although Khrushchev's report showed that estimated procurements of milk and meat had risen in comparison to last year, they were still below the 1962 planned procurement figures.

Milk procurement this year was given as 25.6 million tons, up from 25 million in 1961. But the planned figure was 32.35 million tons.

Meat procurement in 1962 was estimated at 4.2 million tons, up from 3.8 million last year. The planned target for 1962 was 5.53 million tons.

The government raised the retail prices of meat and milk 30% on June 1 in an effort to increase the income of state and collective farms and help them meet costs.

Khrushchev, who toured farm areas in the republics of Uzbekistan, Tajikistan and Turkmenia in September, said the weather had not been favorable this year for a record harvest.

Red Engineer Has New Plan To Warm Arctic Regions

Moscow (AP) — Soviet engineer Alexei Sokolov Tuesday proposed a new plan for warming Arctic regions.

He suggested installation of submerged pumps in the Bering Straits—the area between the tips of Alaska and Siberia—to push the icy polar water into the Pacific.

The pumps would be attached to masts embedded in a very low dam, or "bank," on the bottom of the straits.

MOTHER OF ABANDONED BOY A CONTINENT AWAY

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — A St. Petersburg waitress said she found her 5-year-old son in a news picture Tuesday. He was hurt and deserted and a continent away, and she had no money to get there, she cried. Mrs. Catherine Collins said she saw her son in an Associated Press wirephoto. She had been looking for him, his father and another woman for 6 months.

"I just don't know what to do. I don't have any funds left. I just want somebody to help me get my baby," she said.

The boy, David Collins, was abandoned in a Los Angeles bar.

Mrs. Collins said her husband, David Sr., and a woman named Barbara Joyce Moratelli had disappeared with her son July 13th.

"I've sent letters and pictures to police stations all over the country," she said.

STAMP RICHES VANISH

. . . P.O. Blasts Dream

By STANLEY MEISLER

Washington (AP) —For days a few American collectors have been gazing into their mixed-up stamps and dreaming of cash. Tuesday the Post Office blasted the dream.

In a surprise announcement, the department said it would flood the market with misprinted Dag Hammarskjold stamps. Anyone who wants a misprint will be able to get one for 4 cents.

That means the few collectors who figured on several thousand dollars each for their misprints will have to figure anew. Now, according to H. R. Jorgenson, president of the San Antonio Stamp Club, "they eventually should be worth 8 or 10 cents each." Postal officials expected and received angry complaints from some of the people who bought the original misprints.

Sherman Dealt Hard Blow

One collector, Leonard Sherman of Irvington, N.J., had a complete sheet of 50 misprinted stamps. He had estimated the eventual value at half a million dollars. Now two dollars will get any collector the same — though deflated — prize.

The lost dream of half a million dollars hit Sherman hard. "There won't be any more people collecting stamps," he said. "It would be pointless to try."

And his wife added: "Isn't that lousy?"

A Newark, N.J. dealer said, "It's a raw deal." And a Cleveland dealer asked, "Why don't they leave the collectors alone?"

But many dealers seemed to feel it was wise to prevent the value of stamps from rising to astronomical heights.

"I'm all for it," a Denver dealer said. "I don't believe speculators should be allowed to make money off Post Office mistakes."

Ike Talked To Hagerty About Hiss Appearance

. . . But Says He Didn't Try To Keep Him Off TV

New York (AP) —Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday he spoke to the American Broadcasting Co. Sunday in advance of Alger Hiss' television appearance and expressed amazement over it.

The taped ABC show on which Hiss appeared was entitled, "The Political Obituary of Richard M. Nixon."

In Buffalo, N.Y., Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said he, too, was aroused in advance of the program and called an Eisenhower aide. The Buffalo Evening News quoted Miller as saying the unnamed aide told him "Eisenhower tried to intervene through Jim Hagerty and Hagerty wouldn't do anything about it."

Final Responsibility

Hagerty, as ABC vice president in charge of news, had ultimate responsibility for Hiss' appearance on the show. Hagerty was White House press secretary under Eisenhower, whose vice president was Nixon.

After Eisenhower denied any intervention, Miller in turn denied any such implication. He told the Associated Press:

"When I called the general's aide, I found out that the general had received calls and that he was disturbed and that he had called Mr. Hagerty, registering his disturbance."

"Mr. Hagerty gave him his explanation of the show and Mr. Hagerty said he was staying with the show. I do not know what the general's reaction was. My information was that the general was concerned."

Ike Denies It

Meanwhile, in New York, Eisenhower had been asked if he had intervened with Hagerty to head off the Hiss show. He replied:

"No, I didn't request that of him. I called him on Sunday morning after I had received so many calls to find out what it was all about. I expressed amazement but never in my life have I asked anybody not to report a story after they got it fully."

Hagerty, referring to the Buffalo Evening News version of Miller's remarks, said in a statement of his own:

"Mr. Miller is reporting second hand and inaccurately a personal conversation between Gen. Eisenhower and myself. "The General, to my knowledge, has never attempted to intervene with any news media to prevent the airing or the printing of any story."

"Gen. Eisenhower telephoned me at my home Sunday morning, said he had received conflicting rumors from friends about the Smith program. These rumors were that Hiss was going to be interviewed for a half hour on a program dealing with Dick Nixon's political career. He expressed astonishment, if this were so."

"I told him that this was not so and outlined the format of the program in which Hiss had only a small part. I told him of the others who were appearing on the program and that concluded the conversation."

Hiss served 3½ years in federal prison for lying in his denials that he passed government secrets to Russian agents in the 1930s. Now a 58-year-old printing salesman in New York, Hiss was formerly a high State Department official who first was exposed in a 1948 congressional probe directed by Nixon.

Prison For Addicts Held To Be Cruel

. . . By Supreme Court

Washington (AP) — The Supreme Court refused Tuesday to reconsider its decision that a California law requiring imprisonment of narcotics addicts as criminals inflicts cruel and unusual punishment.

This let stand the ruling of last June 25 declaring the law unconstitutional. The petition for reconsideration was based on a statement that the addict involved had died 13 days before his attorney appealed and 10 months before the high tribunal ruled, unaware of this development.

In another decision, the court upheld the conviction of William Presser, an Ohio Teamster Union official, sentenced to 8 months imprisonment for obstructing the work of the Senate Rackets Investigating subcommittee. He was accused of tearing and mutilating an invoice from a jewelry firm which bore the names of 8 persons who were to get $100 silver champagne buckets for Christmas in 1955.

Inman Violence Rumors Are Not Confirmed

By The Associated Press

Rumors of violence stemming from the bitter school dispute at Inman were current Tuesday, but there was no confirmation for these reports.

Supt. G. E. Tennis said he has heard the reports but he did not see any violence and he did not believe a report that some people had carried guns for a time. Deputy Sheriff Jim Mullen of O'Neill said there was nothing to this report nor to a report that a school board member had been slugged. Both denied that armed officers had been summoned to keep the peace at Inman.

The dispute started when Supt. Tennis decided to subordinate athletics to scholarship by prohibiting students from playing basketball if they failed one subject. The board of education upheld Tennis and coach Bill Miller subsequently was fired, but townspeople divided on the issue and many refused to support the board and the superintendent.

In Lincoln Hamilton Mitten of Fremont, president of the State Board of Education, said he was told that one of the Inman board members who voted to fire Miller "had been slugged" by an angry parent. Tennis said he had heard this story but he could not confirm it.

Mitten said the story came to him from Lewis Kopecy, Inman board president.

State Education Commissioner Dr. Floyd Miller said in Lincoln he had heard reports that guns were being carried while the dispute was at its height, but both Tennis and Mullen said they did not believe this report.

'Not Armed'

Deputy Mullen said a member of Sheriff Leo Tomjack's staff attended a public meeting in Inman, but he was not armed and there was no sign of violence at the meeting.

Tennis said that a week or more ago it was possible a few blows were exchanged during what he called "curbstone oratory" over the problems, but things are "all quiet now."

The Inman school was closed for several days, but has since reopened and Supt. Tennis said: "We're in the school business; we're going right down the line."

Dr. Miller had recommended that the Inman school close because of the unwillingness of the community to accept the board's ruling.

He commented Monday that it "might be a good thing for education in Nebraska if the board were to challenge" the concept that an athletic program can take priority over a basic academic approach in a school system.

Reiser Bound Over; Is Held Without Bond

Burke, S.D. (P) — Duane Reiser, 24, Butte, Neb., waived preliminary hearing when charged in magistrates' court Tuesday with murder in the death of his former sweetheart.

He was bound to circuit court for trial and held without bond.

Reiser was caught Monday night in a barn 30 miles northwest of Bonesteel, S.D., ending a search that began Monday afternoon when Marlene Schmitz, 19, was stabbed to death at her mother's home in Bonesteel.

Friends said the girl and Reiser had gone together while she was in high school but that she broke up the romance this summer. She had been attending a Sioux Falls business college and was home on a visit.

Recounts Seen In 5 Contests

Washington (UPI) — Four governors' races and one contest for the Senate are still undecided with the prospect that they will remain uncertain for some time. Recounts were likely on all 5 of the races from last week's elections.

The 4 undetermined governorships are in Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Minnesota. The senatorial race in question is in South Dakota.

If present leaders in all the races emerge winners, the nation's governors will break down into 34 Democrats and 16 Republicans—exactly what it was before the election—and the Senate will count 63 Democrats and 32 Republicans, a gain of 4 for the Democrats.

Republican John H. Chafee widened his lead Tuesday over incumbent Democrat Gov. John A. Nette Jr. in Rhode Island. Chafee's lead rose from 68 to 102 votes during a recheck of voting machines, but 6,676 absentee ballots remain to be counted. The count will not begin until after Nov. 21, deadline for sending in the ballots.

In Massachusetts, incumbent Republican Gov. John A. Volpe gained 98 votes on Democrat Endicott Peabody in a recheck of ballots, but Volpe still trailed by 3,187 in the unofficial count. The state is expected to announce the official tally Wednesday or Thursday.

An official count announced in Maine showed incumbent Republican Gov. John H. Reed beat Democrat Maynard C. Dolloff by 621 votes. The totals were 146,724 for Reed and 146,121 for Dolloff. But Dolloff has asked for a recount.

In Minnesota, Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, the Democrat-Farmer-Labor candidate, led Republican incumbent Gov. Elmer L. Andersen by 168 votes with an official canvass about three-fourths completed.

An official canvass also was in progress in South Dakota, where Democrat George McGovern led incumbent Sen. Joseph Bottom by a 169 vote margin.

Extensionists Honor Students

Warm autumn weather gave a "springy" atmosphere to the annual fall tea given Tuesday by the Nebraska Home Extension Agents Association, with home economics students at the University of Nebraska as special guests. Shown at the serving table are, from left, Linda Wiechert and Sue Allen, both of Lincoln and NU freshmen, and Frances Runty, Lancaster County home agent. ## Rev. Hicks Named To Advisory Post

Scottsbluff (P)—Gov. Frank Morrison declared Tuesday "we must orient people to the direction of building rather than destruction whether we deal in the area of welfare or any other area of government."

Morrison told the meeting of the Panhandle Welfare Association that "every case worker in the welfare field is interested in reducing the case load, every lawyer is trying to keep his clients out of court and every doctor is trying to keep his patients well."

"All this can be accomplished through rehabilitation, motivation and stimulation of stable living."

While he was here, Morrison announced the appointment of the Rev. Luvern Hicks, former pastor of the Methodist Church in Scottsbluff, as a member of the state welfare advisory committee for state institutions.

Mrs. Majorie Pals, Sydney, was elected president of the Panhandle Association.

Farm Bureau Tables Name Change

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Efforts to change an organization's name can pose problems.

Members of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday struggled with these problems, then tabled for a year a proposal to change the organization's name to "Nebraska Farm and Ranch Federation."

The change was sought to recognize the fact that many federation members are ranchers.

Tax Problems

In policy recommendations, delegates to the state Farm Bureau convention again favored a broadened tax base, called for taxation of property on government land and criticized Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committees.

The resolution on taxation of property on government land read:

"We favor legislation, if necessary, that personal property located on government lands within the state and not now subjected to a school mill levy be assessed and taxed in a manner similar to the personal property of other residents of the county in which the land is located."

This stand aligns the Farm Bureau with other farm organizations, and follows the lease of a state-owned air base at Bruning for a commercial feed lot.

ASCS state and county committees were criticized for attempts to influence farmers voting on referendums. Farm Bureau members called this a "dangerous precedent" and

"a problem which could affect both political parties."

Repeating calls for a broadened tax base, the Farm Bureau resolution favored "the use of an income and/or sales tax as a means of doing this."

Another resolution recommended the sale of the remainder of the state's school lands to private individuals, as leases expire.

Hunting problems drew considerable discussion, the group proposing that each hunting license include the following:

"This license permits hunting, but you must have the permission of the farm operator to hunt on his property." After debating the often-controversial mourning dove question, the group finally opposed its designation as a game bird.

Meteor Lights Up Midwestern Skies

Des Moines (P)—An unusually brilliant meteor was seen in Iowa and elsewhere in the Midwest Tuesday night. Several Nebraskans reported seeing it.

It left a fiery trail which was visible in Des Moines, plunging into darkness at the horizon in the northwest about 7:18 p.m.

Airline pilots reported seeing the green-colored meteor south of Norfolk, Neb., and north of Kansas City.

It was visible for several seconds.

Venezuelan Bank Car Hit By Hoods

Caracas, Venezuela (P)—A team of machine gun robbers looted a bank's armored car of $22,000 at Valencia after killing one guard and wounding the other 4.

Police said one gunman stopped the truck at the Italo-Venezolano Bank by ramming his bicycle into its side on a narrow street. He pulled a machine gun from a box on the bicycle and opened fire. Other robbers in a parked car then opened up.

Pressure Builds For Speedy End To Congo Crisis

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI)—Pressure was building up at the United Nations Tuesday for a speedy end to the Congo problem before another major crisis develops.

A U.N. spokesman said acting Secretary General Thant plans another meeting of his 20-nation Congo advisory committee to devise means of alleviating the tension caused by bombings by Katangese aircraft.

A report from Leopoldville said 5 Congolese were killed and 6 wounded in a weekend attack on Buyu, a village in northern Katanga. A U.N. spokesman at Leopoldville said other raids occurred at Kongolo and Kabale.

Woman Dies In 2-Vehicle Road Accident

Norfolk (P)—Mrs. Minnie Brueckner, 72, of Hoskins was killed Tuesday in an intersection crash 4 miles east of Hoskins on Nebraska Highway 35.

Mrs. Brueckner was going north on a county road and Robert Bowman, 39, of Fullerton was going east on Nebraska Highway 35.

Witnesses said Mrs. Brueckner apparently lost control of her car which made a U turn in the intersection and was hit broadside by Bowman's station wagon.

Bowman was reported in satisfactory condition in a Norfolk hospital.

The death was Nebraska's 335th traffic fatality of the year compared with 287 on the same date a year ago.

Second Victim Dies In Crash

Cozad (P)—Larry Bedford, 22, Gothenburg, injured in a traffic accident last Friday which took the life of a companion, died Monday night in a Cozad hospital.

Gene Ostendorf, who officers said was a passenger in the car driven by Bedford, was the earlier victim.

Authorities said their car went out of control when one wheel slipped off the shoulder and the vehicle went into a ditch.

Gunshot Wounds Fatal To Starks

Omaha — Eddie Charles Starks, 22, who was shot during his birthday party at his home here, died Tuesday.

Starks was struck in the stomach by one of several shots fired into a roomful of party guests early Sunday.

Police said John Thompson, 21, of Omaha admitted firing the shots but did not realize he had hit anyone. Detectives said the shooting apparently followed an argument.

Deputy County Attorney Frank Pane said he has not decided what charges he will file.

There Is No Escape

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The young Philadelphia physicist who, with his wife and baby daughter, will make a new home in New Zealand may find life a most difficult process. Rodney J. Satory and his family are leaving the United States for the comparative safety against atomic fallout that is offered them in New Zealand. He said he hoped that "the problems of the rest of the world should hit there last." He expressed doubt that the competition of arms between nations would ever be reduced in the United States.

There is difficulty in comprehending the thinking of this man and his family.

Parent And Child

His actions raise so many questions that it is doubtful even he has answered them all in his own mind. He and his wife will be moving, they said, for the benefit of their child, to improve her living conditions. Perhaps they will succeed with this objective as the child will never understand the meaning and implications of the move. The little girl will grow to maturity just as will the other children of New Zealand and will make a home for herself in that land. But for the parents, the story is quite a different one.

There is an implied criticism in Mr. Satory's statement of this nation's reliance upon armaments. But how confused can any one man become? If it were not for these armaments, there would be no place that Mr. Satory, in freedom, could take his family. He could roam the world in search of improved living conditions but his wanderings would be in vain.

He would seek but never find that place on earth where violence was not a part of the risk of being alive. One wonders if those who lament the current state of affairs have ever really stopped to think about the alternatives. What they oppose is the seemingly headlong rush of civilization into oblivion through the avenue of nuclear energy. They see mankind destroying itself and the price of life going down on the world market.

Such things should, of course, alarm them as they should alarm us all but how accurate a picture do they paint? Their initial error is their assumption that the world will never learn to live with nuclear energy. On the contrary, there is every expectation that the world will learn to live with this new source of energy and that it will some day prove to be a much greater force for good than for evil. The acquisition of knowledge has always been a tremendous challenge to society but the challenge has always been met because of the world's instinct for survival. This instinct has survived the changing environment of centuries and there have been some fabulous and fantastic changes. Each new day brings us that much closer to survival of the discovery and application of nuclear power.

What is it that Mr. Satory would have this nation do to make it the utopia in which he would like to live? New Zealand would not be the last place for the problems of the world to hit simply by chance. The country is what it is by fortune and chance. It lacks the capacity to be engaged in the front line battle between the conflicting ideologies of East and West. It is not a major nuclear power simply because it could not conceivably be a nuclear power. Even with its heritage as a once great empire, France has not been able to push herself into the front line of battle. And it is not a matter of choice but one of responsibility which places the United States where she is.

We have been shaped by world events as well as by our own doing and have come to the point where we are the keystone in the arch of freedom under which all men would like to live. Should that stone ever be dislodged, the entire structure would crumble and then we would have a world free of the threat of nuclear annihilation. Then Mr. Satory and everyone else could raise their families with no fear of fallout. But it really isn't just fallout that has us concerned. Fallout is nothing more than the means to the end of human life and as such is in company with an endless multitude of things. Death itself offers the only complete escape from all the dangers to life and that is an obviously ridiculous answer to things.

If we sacrificed our freedom and way of life for guarantees against nuclear dangers, what kind of life would we be obtaining for ourselves?

Preservation Of Individualism

Would our conditions of living be improved? We would, of course, be forced to abandon all principles of Christianity. We would be forced to abandon our individuality and Mr. Satory could never move even if he discovered a condition of living in his environment even more distasteful than the threat of nuclear bombs. The problems of the world about which he spoke really boil down to just one problem—freedom of the individual and this would hit and engulf New Zealand and the entire world if Western society as a whole ever decided to escape as Mr. Satory has decided to do.

Nothing is more violent and insecure for the individual than subjugation to an authoritarian and dictatorial power. There may be escape for a few from the dangers of meeting the menace of such power but only because the many stay on to fight the battle wherever it leads.

We're With Her

In London, as might be expected, the Noise Abatement Society has dedicated itself to the elimination of unnecessary noise. But at a recent meeting, its membership was stunned with a denunciation from the audience. Mrs. Elizabeth James challenged: "I think it terribly unfair that people should try to take noise away from us. Where there is noise, there is life. I love to hear noise . . . I love the sound of children's feet as they rush downstairs, past my flat and the cries as they play outside."

We are completely on the side of Mrs. James. It is our conviction that people make too big a thing these days about soundings that are natural and should not be disturbing them at all. An entire neighborhood, for instance, can be terribly disturbed by one narrow-minded person who believes life should be a much more regulated thing than it is.

1,500 Oldsters Wanted

The Peace Corps has openings for 1,500 senior citizens representing varied experience.

It will take mechanics, doctors, businessmen, lawyers, farmers, skilled craftsmen or in fact just about anyone with proven skills normally found in a competent community.

The openings are there because 40 progressing countries have asked for them. The countries are arrayed in such distant places as Latin America, Africa and Asia.

Inevitably, a successful Peace Corps would progress into the field of the practical trades and arts. New governments or old ones resolved to adopt western methods and western goals may receive

These are the people who take violent exception to an occasional barking dog, for instance, when they could ignore the thing and add time to their lives. They will spend their days and nights hating the neighbor who parks in the wrong place along the street or who paints his house a color that displeases them. They have gotten to where there are so many things they can't stand that the whole world to them is an ugly and unpleasant place in which to live.

Mrs. James has the right idea—look at what the noises mean and maybe you will even come to enjoy them. Without the noise of traffic, people, business and industry, the world would be at a standstill and we would still be living in the dark ages. But it is a comforting fact to know that some people have so little to worry about that they must spend their time fighting noise.

initial impetus on the diplomatic and philosophical level, but this only precedes a demand for the solid filler—the people who can lay brick, build roads, organize community services, administer law and justice, teach the young, and the like. Communities as well as nations are built in detail.

In this instance senior citizens face an exciting future filled with the opportunity to return to activity, knowing that their experience has a greater value than ever.

It is a new definition of full employment and a refreshing return to an earlier Americanism which preferred constructive deeds to "sending a check." It is surprising to find so many solutions to our new problems in our own past.

Leg Music Returns

Most people with delicate musical ears will swear that two world wars, a depression and psychiatry resulted from the invention and use of the old fashioned player piano.

Less sensitive survivors of the age will equally swear that nothing before or since gave the operator such a feeling of power and havoc, nor a greater inward sense of fulfillment.

The player piano amounted to a rare mating of a spiritual boiler maker and a musical instrument, a match perfected by retaining an army drill sergeant to set the cadence, and arrangers consisting of a team of riveters who punched holes on roles of musical paper. This amounted to a time bomb, later detonated in an otherwise rational home by an individual driven by an inner thrust for making the walls of Jericho come tumbling down.

For upward of a quarter of a century Americans developed bowling pin legs driving a player piano around the parlor. Then a great silence fell. People forgot The Oceana Roll and the Pianola Rag. And then out of the silence one could hear Van Cliburn, playing in a different vein. The storm was over.

No one has ever figured out the love affair between America's non-musical population and the pianola, but it was a dandy. The juke box of modern times may be a constant guarantee against peace and quiet. But it is an impersonal machine. No one ever gets wedded to it. The player piano, cared nothing for dimes. It would rejoice with anyone who could stand up to its physical demands.

It would be just as well if this past indiscretion of America were left unmentioned. But national security demands otherwise. The Wall Street Journal says the player piano is coming back. In the past year sales have gone up several thousand units. Many more instruments are being programmed for 1963. We cannot predict the outcome of this return match. All we can say to all is: Watch out!

Peace Climate Said Improved

WASHINGTON—Delicate diplomatic negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union right now could pave the way for a major breakthrough for better understanding.

That is the opinion of diplomats close to the present talks on Cuba, some of whom believe that the U.S.A. and U.S.S.R. could conceivably get back to the understanding which existed during their wartime alliance.

On the other hand, rapprochement could be upset by a shift of policy in the Kremlin, or by an upset in some of the delicate negotiations now taking place regarding the removal of offensive weapons from Cuba. The Soviet bombers, given to Castro, are a case in point. While they are old, and sitting ducks for any bomber attack from the United States, they have become a political issue because of criticism from Kennedy's enemies. And he insists on their removal.

Otherwise, however, the administration believes that the good faith shown by Khrushchev in immediately removing the 42 medium range missiles from Cuba far outweighs the pin-pricks and irritants caused in large part by Fidel Castro. In fact, the boorish behavior of the bearded Cuban is reliably reported to have got on Russian nerves to such an extent that they are quite sympathetic with American problems regarding Castro.

Meanwhile, here are some of the long-range developments, considered far more important than the Castro irritations, which could pave the way for better understanding.

The Chinese-Indian war— This is a major problem for Khrushchev and could become one for President Kennedy. Their interests are essentially the same—namely, not permitting the two most populous countries in the world, with one-third of the world's population, to become embroiled in a major war.

Deflation of Castro— The Cuban crisis has had the effect not only of making the Russians fed up with Castro, but making Castro fed up with the Russians, plus a general conclusion all around Latin America, including even Mexico, that Castro is more of a buffoon than a champion of the people.

Reason over Berlin— The more reasonable men around Chancellor Adenauer are now discussing formulas for Berlin which will go a long way toward a solution of this most dangerous spot in Europe. It will be discussed with Adenauer at the White House this week. Meanwhile, it's significant that neither Khrushchev nor other Russian leaders have issued any ultimatums regarding Berlin. Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin, an industrial expert of the new Soviet school, gave a moderate speech on the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, without sabre-rattling and no deadline for a settlement of Berlin.

Dissatisfaction Dumps Governors

WASHINGTON—With rare exceptions Americans have expressed a significant amount of economic and social dissatisfaction by voting against incumbent governors. At least 12 states have switched the party labels on their statehouses.

Republicans got the best of it. In Gov.-elect Scranton of Pennsylvania and Gov.-elect Romney of Michigan they have attractive presidential possibilities as well as control of big states. The victory of James A. Rhodes over Gov. DiSalle of Ohio represents a more normal situation, but the state ranks high in any presidential calculation.

These results, added to the re-election of Gov. Rockefeller in New York, are considerable solace to the party whose congressional threat to President Kennedy failed decisively. At the very least, it has a much better facade behind which to rebuild for the presidential contest in 1964 and 1968.

Yet just as the President must recognize that his technical majorities in Congress fall short of realistic control, Republicans are obliged to acknowledge that their state triumphs are more a matter of protest than of their own political lust.

Gov.-elect Scranton takes over a state whose economic distress is reflected in the loss of six congressmen in the last two reapportionments. His campaign motorcade passed through steel towns which are following the old coal and iron towns into oblivion, chiefly because of automation.

He has only one four-year term to achieve miracles or at least make them appear possible. Pennsylvania sticks to the old fashioned system of a rapid turnover in governors, which is one reason none have had a political future.

Gov.-elect Romney ran as a person and won as a person. He proved unable to carry along anyone else on the Republican ticket and, as with Kennedy, his paper majority in his legislature gives him more apparent than real control. Many members of it have opposed a state income tax, which Romney supports.

Romney is a pragmatic business executive who made money by identifying a problem and meeting it. Probably he will identify this one fairly easily, but he will have to meet it in a field new to him.

One reason Gov.-elect Rhodes prevailed was because his predecessor had imposed higher taxes. It appears superficially that he has a better balanced economy in his state.

It is no secret that Gov. Rockefeller is disappointed by a plurality smaller than he won in 1958 even though it is large enough to put him in the front of 1964 speculation. That result against a really weak opponent is attributed to his higher taxes and, to some undetermined degree, to his divorce.

All Republican governors will confront conservative pressures which center upon their party. The well-financed conservative groups want states rights at cut-rate prices. This is a good trick if you can do it, and in industrial states it will be a major struggle.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Independent Press Questioned

WASHINGTON—Whether the press is whipping boy, submissive servant of the government or in the Jeffersonian concept a fourth and independent foundation stone of freedom is a question being debated in several capitals in this time of troubles when all institutions are on trial.

Richard Nixon blames the working press for distorting his image and by implication for bringing about his defeat in California. In New Delhi the government of Prime Minister Nehru is said to be persuading the press to help, by soft-pedaling the news of American arms for India's war with China, to continue at least the outward look of non-alignment between the power blocs of East and West.

Here at home the Kennedy administration is accused of managing the news in the Cuban crisis to suit its own ends. This charge, growing out of remarks about the official generation of news—or more accurately generating events that create news—coincides with an order suggesting suppression or even censorship. Officials of the Department of Defense and State are required to report the content of all talks with newsmen or to have present at such talks members of the public relations staff.

But it is in the capital of West Germany that the debate has reached a state of siege. The publisher of Germany's leading news magazine, Der Spiegel (The Mirror), Rudolf Augstein, and several of his editors and writers have been in jail for more than two weeks. They are charged with treason for publishing a report to the effect that the German armed forces participating in a joint allied exercise were way below standard in their performance.

So far, not a line of proof has been brought forward to substantiate the treason charge or to refute the allegations that the armed forces were ill-prepared. Augstein and his staff are considered enemies of the state for having published the report, and since Germany has no habeas corpus they must languish in jail while officials of the ministry of justice ransack the magazine's offices in search of proof.

Most disturbing of all, as Flora Lewis pointed out in an illuminating dispatch to the Washington Post, is that the public in Germany seems little concerned. Sampling of opinion has shown that they do not want to be involved by expressing any view and they wish the whole thing could be hushed up.

The episode becomes even more pertinent with the arrival in Washington of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for talks with President Kennedy. Incidentally, on the eve of his departure he sought to make the President's task more difficult by suggesting that Soviet missiles were still being hidden in Cuba. Thus before meeting the President he sought to draw a line through American foreign policy.

The jailing of Der Spiegel's publisher was done without the knowledge of the minister of justice, who is a member not of Adenauer's own Christian Democrats but of the Free Democratic party, which is essential to the support of Bonn's coalition government. In the uproar that followed, the Free Democrats threatened to pull out and the unstable coalition was further weakened.

What troubles American policymakers is whether Adenauer is actually in control of his own government. The chancellor, who will be 87 years old in January, is the center of furious intrigues that have an oriental palace quality. Adenauer said on the floor of the Bundestag that he was afraid to telephone from his home to his office because his wires were tapped.

As the outcry over the nighttime raid on Der Spiegel went on it was not long before the hand of a master intriguer, Defense Minister Franz Joseph Strauss, was revealed. A long-time enemy of Der Spiegel, Strauss admitted that his ministry had phoned the German military attaché in Spain to bring about the arrest and extradition of the author of the article who was on vacation there.

Despite his occasional denials for the record, the suspicion is strong that Strauss is determined to get nuclear weapons for the German forces. He, therefore, considers conventional forces to have a secondary place, and Der Spiegel's article was certain to arouse his anger at an old enemy.

Freedom of the press is guaranteed in the German constitution. But this aspect of the case does not seem to concern German officialdom. Adenauer is reported to have said that law officers should be allowed to proceed with their work without interference from the public.

One lesson out of Germany is that guarantees mean little without popular support. A press which is no more than the reflection of a ruling clique—a prop for the establishment—cannot claim public backing when the crunch comes. Similarly, a press which is no more than an instrument of the cold war will not long survive as a free institution.

Seniority System In Congress Archaic

WASHINGTON—The first order of business for the 80th Congress in January will be to play the numbers game.

Each new senator is entitled to two committee assignments, and although one senatorial contest in South Dakota is still in doubt, the odds are that minority Republicans will have to make way for Democrats on eight committees.

This will require a major reshuffling, since senators with greater seniority invariably use such an opportunity to improve their own committee assignments, shifting from lower ranking committees like "District of Columbia" and "Rules" to such coveted ones as Foreign Relations, Appropriations and Armed Services.

No matter how they play the numbers, however, one outcome is inevitable. Southerners and creaking oldsters will retain the powerful chairmanships of practically every major committee.

Senator Carl Hayden, the 85-year-old dean of the Senate who was re-elected from his hospital bed this month, will continue to preside over the purse-holding Appropriations Committee. He may also continue the feud with 83-year-old Rep. Clarence Cannon of the corresponding House Committee which bottled up all money bills this fall, until the very end of the longest peace-time congressional session in history.

Thanks to the rigid rules of seniority, Southerners will dominate legislation through these choice committee chairmanships: Allen Ellender of Louisiana, Agriculture; Richard Russell of Georgia, Armed Services; Willis Robertson of Virginia, Banking and Currency; Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Finance; J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, Foreign Relations; John McClellan of Arkansas, Government Operations and Investigations; James O. Eastland of Mississippi, Judiciary; Lister Hill of Alabama, Labor and Public Welfare; and Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Post Office and Civil Service.

All except two of those gentlemen are well past 60, and several are septuagenarians. Most are highly capable legislators, but since the 11 Confederate states comprise only one-ninth of our Union, and far less than that on a population percentage, it is questionable whether these formidable chairmen accurately represent the political philosophy of America.

The next session would seem to present an ideal climate for Congress to do a little soul-searching about its cob-webby seniority system.

It's a cinch that a former senator named John F. Kennedy would welcome it.

Ten Groups Agree State Should Aid Education

Unanimous agreement that Nebraska should provide state aid to schools was expressed Tuesday by 10 educational groups at a luncheon meeting with members of the State Board of Education.

The pre-legislative biennial meeting of the various groups was called by the State Board of Education to discuss measures desired from the 1963 Legislature and other problems in the educational field.

In addition to the state board and members of the State Department of Education, represented groups included:

Nebraska School Administrators Association; Nebraska State Education Association; Nebraska State School Boards Association; County Superintendents Association; Nebraska PTA Congress; Lay Citizens Committee; Nebraska Rural School Boards Association; Nebraska Council for Better Education; Legislative Steering Committee for the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education, and the University of Nebraska Teachers College.

Hamilton F. Mitten of Fremont, president of the State Board of Education, said all of those present at the meeting expressed their agreement on the need for state aid, but he also noted they believe determination of its financing as primarily a matter for the Legislature.

Other areas of agreement: — The state board should be given authority over teacher certification now held by the Legislature. It was noted this authority would be exercised within the framework set out by the Legislature.

— Considerable responsibility for special education rests with the state.

— Junior colleges must receive state aid if they are going to continue to exist.

— 100% approval of the Department of Education's 1963-65 budget request.

— There is need for more comprehensive planning in school district reorganization. The goal is a complete K-12 program, but there is need now for a more comprehensive program for the intermediate steps toward that goal.

Educational television has tremendous possibilities which must be explained the to general public.

— There is need for more trade schools.

— There should be compulsory audits for all schools throughout the state.

$2.4 Million Deaf School Building Plan Told

Supt. George Thompson of the Nebraska School for the Deaf Tuesday outlined to the State Board of Education details of a proposed $2,385,000 building program.

Describing it as a crash program necessitated by inadequate facilities, Thompson explained overall plans and priorities given each project to meet the Omaha institution's most pressing needs.

Top priority went to a proposed $491,219 combination building for the youngest children. It includes 8 classrooms and 18 residence rooms.

Other proposals by priority:

New combined gymnasium-auditorium, $834,998; Boys Dormitory addition, including library and recreation areas, $308,176; alterations to vocational arts building, $89,500; new Girls Dormitory, $330,353; new engineer's home, $31,280; new residence for superintendent, $44,120; new garage and alterations to present garage, $27,020; alterations in present school building, $41,500; new boiler, $35,000, and new playing field and track, $41,335.

The school's present enrollment is 162, Thompson said, but this may climb to 250.

Students "are entitled to the same physical plant as their hearing brothers," Thompson declared.

The board promised serious study and consideration of the proposal.

In other action, the board suspended for a year the teaching certificate of Jerome Guzinski of Grand Island against whom Clarks superintendent Robert Strickland filed a complaint.

Strickland told the board he asked the suspension because Guzinski "did not honor a teaching contract with Clarks School."

ORME TO ASK COUNTY-WIDE SOLON OPINION

State Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln said Tuesday she will ask the attorney general's office for an opinion on whether Douglas and Lancaster County legislators could be elected from the counties at large without a change in the state constitution.

Douglas County's 7 senators and Lancaster County's 3 senators presently are elected from districts within the counties.

Mrs. Orme's request was prompted by speculation on whether county-wide elections could be used in these two counties, the only Nebraska counties with more than one senator each.

Demo Committeeman Boyle, Hanson 'Don't Plan Quitting'

Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle and State Chairman Russell Hanson Tuesday told The Associated Press that they have no plans of resigning their party posts.

Their comments were solicited after it was learned that Democratic National Committeewoman Maurine Biegert has called a meeting of "party leaders," not including Boyle or Hanson.

The meeting — "to discuss the future of the Democratic Party in Nebraska" — will be held in Grand Island Sunday, Mrs. Biegert said.

Speculation has centered on the possibility that Gov. Morrison's supporters would move for a change in party leadership in the wake of his general election victory over Republican nominee Fred Seaton.

Boyle said he could see no reason for resigning.

Hanson declared: "I'm not planning to resign. I was just elected."

Hanson said "the only time you can change the executive committee is at the post-primary convention. You can't change the officers at another time without resignations."

Mrs. Biegert had invited county chairmen and members of the state central committee, but not members of the state executive committee.

Both Boyle and Hanson said there was no reason why the Grand Island meeting should not be held, but both said they hoped Mrs. Biegert would use the opportunity to ask chairmen whose counties have not met fund-raising quotas to "make plans to do so."

SHOP AT THE STORE THAT HAS MORE . . .

Down to the center of Panama City this sticky morning. In the last two days, 8 inches of rain fell on the just and unjust alike. All my envelopes sealed themselves automatically forever.

The first sun brought a light steam off the jungle growth — Panama is mostly jungle.

The downtown streets were crowded. And the Hindu merchants implored me to—"Enter, Your Honor, and be the guest of my shop."

In spite of a dripping climate and see-saw politics, Panama does quite well. Simply because it truly stands (as advertised) at the crossroads of the world.

The city got its start when Vasco Nunez de Balboa marched across the narrow neck of land and waded into the Pacific.

"How is it, Vasco?" asked his armored men.

"It's not cold once you're in," said Balboa.

Balboa then had a run of bad luck. He was married to an Indian Princess. But in the interest of harmony, he also married the daughter of Pedrarias Davila, the Spanish political boss.

In a very short time, Pedrarias put Balboa on trial and had his head chopped off —a frightful way to treat a son-in-law.

Panama proceeded to become a city. Mule trains of silver crossed to meet the treasure fleets of Spain on the Atlantic side. The heathen were converted.

Sir Henry Morgan looted the town.

Drake was ready to take another shot at it when he died of fever.

De Lesseps of the Suez lost several thousand Chinese to malaria before he gave up trying to dig a canal.

Panama revolted. Became a separate country from the mother Colombia.

Americans sprayed out the malarial mosquitoes. Dug the Canal. And Panama lives on the sea-going traffic.

A thousand ships transit the Canal each month. Their crews leave a solid chunk of money in the tinny fleshpots.

Because it is a crossroads (for ships and planes), Panama pulls a few million in tourist dollars.

The Pan American Highway is passable now, from Texas to Panama City. Already a trickle of cars is rolling down here.

There is some talk of working for more tourist business. Some talk of clearing the jungles—you can grow anything in this lush climate.

But I couldn't find a great deal of action.

Panama seems content to live on the passing traffic. As it has for 400 years.

Ottawa (UPI) — Charlotte Whitton, who's been feudin' and fussin' vocal-style ever since she became mayor of Ottawa, hauled off and punched one of her chief political tormenters Tuesday.

In an uproar unprecedented in the capital's 108-year history, the bantamweight Miss Whitton fired "5 or 6 punches and some kicks and slaps" at Controller Paul Tardif.

Some of the blows landed, but there was no sign of physical damage to the 52-year-old Tardif. He made no attempt to strike back.

The flareup occurred during a closed-door board of control meeting in the mayor's office.

JUDGE LYNCH

Judge Orders Man Whipped

Dover, Del. (AP) — Franklin W. Cannon was sentenced Tuesday to 20 lashes at a Delaware whipping post.

Judge Stewart Lynch of superior court ordered the punishment of the 20-year-old Dover man under a state law adopted in 1717.

Cannon was sentenced to 20 lashes and 3 years in prison 11 months ago for auto theft, but Judge Lynch suspended sentence and put Cannon on 5 years probation.

Judge Lynch ordered the sentences carried out for violation of parole after Cannon was convicted of petty larceny later.

Risk Too Great

Nairobi, Kenya (AP)—Kenya is losing money because it is regarded as a high-risk area by companies which insure movie stars, says Arvind Jamidar, minister of tourism. He said high insurance premiums prompted the company making the Bob Hope film "Call Me Bwana" to cancel most location shots in Kenya. He estimated that this decision cost Kenya $700,000.

ADLAI RAPS GOLDWATER

United Nations, N.Y. (P) — Adlai E. Stevenson sent a sharply worded letter Tuesday to Sen. Barry Goldwater, accusing the Arizona Republican of distorting Stevenson's remarks and asking him to stop it.

Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and a former Democratic candidate for president, was obviously nettled by Goldwater's demand that President Kennedy fire him for what Goldwater described as being "soft on communism and soft on Cuba."

Stevenson did not mention the demand in his brief letter, however. Instead, he suggested that in the future Goldwater live up to the obligation of a U.S. Senator "to be accurate and responsible in your public statements."

Keep in Mind
"I trust you will keep that in mind if you have occasion to refer to any speech of mine again."

Goldwater called for the ouster of Stevenson and three other administration officials — Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Chester Bowles and Richard N. Goodwin.

A spokesman for Stevenson said the ambassador's record in the U.N. Cuban debate speaks for itself. He cited Stevenson's confrontation of the Soviet Union's Valerian A. Zorin in the Security Council during the first days of the Cuban crisis. Stevenson demanded a "yes or no" answer as to whether the Russians had any offensive weapons in Cuba.

Take Risks

Stevenson's letter dealt primarily with a statement by Goldwater attributing to Stevenson a remark that the administration is prepared to take risks to lessen the chance of an intensified arms race.

"You have carefully neglected to quote the rest of the paragraph," Stevenson said.

He then quoted from a Sept. 20 speech on disarmament: "We are prepared to take certain risks to lessen the chance of an intensified arms race. But we are not prepared to risk our survival... but we cannot stake our national existence on blind trust — especially on blind trust in a great and powerful nation which repeatedly declares its fundamental hostility to the basic values of free society."

"I would be obliged," Stevenson said, "if you would not again distort my utterances by quoting them out of context."

No Doubts

Goldwater told newsmen he had no doubts about Stevenson's loyalty or about that of the other 3.

"They just don't understand communism and the modern world," he said.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was asked Tuesday during an interview what he thought of Goldwater's reference to Stevenson as "soft on communism and soft on Cuba."

"I'd never say that," said Eisenhower. "And I don't see how anybody can tell what another's motives are."

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms, ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. MRS. ISABEL SILLAN

Killer Of Socialite Is Sought

Westport, Conn. (P) — Detectives pieced together Tuesday a story of murder, abduction and rape as they sought the strangle-slayer of a 50-year-old woman.

The slain woman was Isabel Sillan, long active in this Fairfield County town's civic and social life and the wife of a New York fashion designer.

Police said that after Mrs. Sillan had been strangled Monday, the assailant abducted her 14-year-old daughter, raped the girl, and held her captive in a car for about 12 hours.

The daughter, Gail, still in nightgown and robe, fled from her captor Monday in the neighboring town of Norwalk. She was reported in good condition at Norwalk Hospital.

The teen-ager described her assailant as a tall, slender Negro, between 30 and 40 years old, wearing green pants and a gray shirt.

Pierre Sillan, a fashion designer with Burlington Mills in New York returned Monday night to his $50,000 home in a fashionable section of town to find his wife dead and their daughter missing.

Gail told police she awakened at about 9 a.m. Monday and started downstairs when she encountered the intruder who started to choke her with a rope.

She fainted, she said, just as she was being dragged into her bedroom and as her mother — attracted by the screams — came to her aid.

When she revived, the girl said, she saw the man choking her mother. He choked the girl and her mother alternately until Mrs. Sillan was dead, Gail said.

Canada Firm Put Twist On

Washington (P) — Senate stockpile investigators accused a Canadian firm Tuesday of greedily "arm-twisting" the U.S. government into fat profits on a Korean war-time contract for $150 million worth of nickel.

The special Senate Armed Service Subcommittee conducting the inquiry announced the company — Falconbridge Nickel Mines Ltd. of Toronto, Canada — had rejected an invitation to send witnesses to the hearing.

It also had declined to let Senate investigators see its books and records, the subcommittee said.

Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., a subcommittee member, exploded at point in the hearings:

"They (Falconbridge) had us in a position where they could twist our arms and they did."

Earlier, he had said, "I can't understand businessmen milking the U.S. government for every plug nickel they can get" in time of war.

Denied access to the Falconbridge books, the subcommittee produced figures culled from the company's annual reports to stockholders and interpreted them as showing a 73% profit after taxes on the firm's business with the U.S. government. Its profits on commercial sales were 21% after taxes, the subcommittee said.

'GOP Governor' Club Got $2,150 In Contributions

Contributions of $25 or more made to the "Elect a Republican Governor Club" in behalf of defeated gubernatorial candidate Fred Seaton totaled $2,150, club president J. O. Peck of Columbus reported to the Secretary of State Tuesday.

The entire amount was spent on political advertising. Ray C. Johnson, re-elected state Auditor, reported campaign expenditures of $1,438.

A number of state legislative candidates also reported campaign expenses. They were:

Harry D. Bryan of Hebron, 2nd District, $652.
Sam Klaver of Omaha, 6th District, $328.
Jay Person of Wauwata, 37th District, none.
Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha, 8th District, $550.
George H. Fleming of Sidney, 43rd District, $210.
Cecil Craft of North Platte, 38th District, $126.
J. J. O. Peck of Columbus, 26th District, none.

FOWLER HAMILTON

Hamilton's Resignation Is Accepted

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy has accepted the resignation of foreign aid chief Fowler Hamilton, the White House reported Tuesday.

Hamilton, director of the Agency for International Development, submitted his resignation during the weekend. Acting White House Press Secretary Andrew Hatcher said it would become effective as soon as the President appoints a successor.

President Kennedy's brother-in-law, R. Sargent Shriver, had been mentioned as a possible successor to Hamilton. But Hatcher denied the rumor again Tuesday.

Asked if Budget Director David E. Bell was being considered, Hatcher said, "I just don't know."

He said with the selection of a successor in process, the White House would not release the customary exchange of letters between the President and a departing official. However, Hatcher said the letters eventually will come out.

Before the White House announcement accepting Hamilton's resignation, the foreign aid chief announced he was cancelling a planned trip to Europe this week.

Ready To Flee?

State Music Teacher Unit Votes, Listens

The Nebraska Music Teachers Association members spent their final convention day voting, listening — and listening some more.

Four top officers were re-elected: Mrs. Wilda H. Reiff of Omaha, president; Hans Baer of Bellevue, first vice president; Louis Trzcinski of Lincoln, second vice president, and Miss Ruth Dreamer of Lincoln, secretary.

Miss Clara Yechout of Omaha was chosen treasurer. Tuesday afternoon featured performance of nationally and internationally famed contemporary works, some by Nebraskans.

String ensembles interpreted compositions of Copland, Kirchner and Bartok. Rudolph Barta of Scottsbluff said such performances represent "some of our few opportunities to hear live music of this sort."

Robert Wharton of Chadron State Teachers College praised the performances, adding "musicians have a tendency to live in the past. This kind of contemporary music is becoming more and more a part of what's being taught."

Estes To Withdraw His Pauper's Oath

El Paso, Tex. (UPI) — Bankrupt Billie Sol Estes changed his mind Tuesday and announced plans to withdraw a pauper's oath after a federal judge ordered him to appear in court Wednesday to answer questions by government attorneys.

One of Estes' attorneys, John Dennison of Pecos, filed the pauper's oath petition Monday and said Estes could not even afford the $3,500 cost of appealing the order which held him bankrupt.

Enders Cashier Testifies Evans Held Gun On Him

Omaha (P) — Claude O. Knotwell, cashier of the Enders State Bank, testified in Federal Court Tuesday that Charles William Evans, 36, of Denver, held a gun on him when the bank was robbed of about $23,000 last April 14.

Evans is on trial on charges of bank robbery and transportation of stolen money.

Evans and Richard Davis, 38, of Denver, were arrested in Colorado, and Davis has pleaded guilty to bank robbery charges. He was sentenced to 15 years.

Knotwell testified Davis first drew a gun on him and that Evans later stood beside him, gun in hand, as he filled a sack with money.

Tri-Delta Marks Anniversary

Alumnae and collegiate members of Delta Delta Delta sorority at the University of Nebraska celebrated Founders Day Tuesday evening at a dinner held at the Student Union.

Among 50-year members of the sorority who were expecially honored was Mrs. Lawrence Packard of White Hall, Mont. Also an honored guest was Mrs. Samuel Syverud of Bettendorf, Iowa, district chairman of Tri-Delta.

Mrs. Lawrence Packard, and Miss Karen Werner; (standing from the left), Mrs. Lloyd True, chairman for the Founders Day observance, and Mrs. Evan Benjamin, president of the Lincoln Alumnae.

Town Talk

Have some more names to add to our football reunion—the squads of 1920, 1921 and 1922—this morning.

The latest word is that Mr. and Mrs. Harold McGlasson already are on their way to Lincoln from Lake Charles, La. Mr. and Mrs. McGlasson will be the guests of Mr. McGlasson's mother, Mrs. Genie McGlasson.

Then we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoyt of Washington D.C., will be here for the reunion festivities. As a matter of fact Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt already have arrived in Lincoln. They lingered here briefly before going on to their old home town, McCook, but will be back in time for the celebration. While in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt also will visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoyt.

We have a change of address for one of the reunion squad members, too—Every-one thought that Hank Bassett still resided in Tulsa, Okla., but just yesterday Mr. Bassett informed Mr. Swanson and Mr. Russell that he now resided in Alberta, Canada, and that accompanying him to Lincoln (he is on his way) would be Mrs. Bassett.

Speaking of guests in Lincoln—had a glimpse of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Waugh who were in town for a very brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Waugh who, as you know, reside in Washington D.C., arrived on Saturday. On Sunday they went to Fremont where they spent the day with old friends—returned to Lincoln where they remained until Tuesday morning when they left to return to Washington.

An extremely familiar and popular face is missing at the Lincoln Country Club these days. Mrs. John Carey (Johnnie—for short) is convalescing at Bryan Memorial Hospital following surgery. Mrs. Carey entered the hospital a week ago last Friday and it is expected that she will be hospitalized for at least another week.

Dinner-Dance

Members of the Air Force Association of Lincoln and their wives will entertain at a dinner-dance Friday evening at the Lincoln Air Force Base Officers Club. Dinner will begin at 7 o'clock.

COTNER TERRACE

Cotner Terrace is awarded the golden revolving doors this week for the large number of people on the go and "on the come" in the neighborhood.

We'll account for the presentation by beginning with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tetherow and mentioning that they entertained guests from Fremont and Mission, So. Dak. during the weekend.

On Friday, Mrs. Tetherow's mother, Mrs. L. C. Roberts, arrived from Fremont to spend a few days at the Tetherow home, and left Cotner Terrace on Sunday, just as the South Dakota guests were arriving. These visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Irish Lovejoy and their daughter Kitty, who spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Tetherow, and then returned to Mission.

And more travelers on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Green and their sons, Gary and Jimmy, who jaunted to York for a day's visit with friends and relatives.

The first part of the day was spent with Mrs. Green's mother, Mrs. Mabel Churchill, and then Mrs. Churchill and her Lincoln visitors attended the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of York friends, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanmann.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and their sons returned to Lincoln Sunday evening.

Spending the day at the Donald A. McKinney home on Sunday were Mrs. McKinney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Silas of Hildreth. The center of attraction was the newest member of the McKinney family, Lisa Faye, who was born two months ago and hadn't yet been visited by her grandparents.

Lisa Faye has two other sisters and a brother, Peggy, Linda and Scott.

Journeying "just outside of Lincoln" last Friday were Mr. Jim Horn and his sons, Mike, 7, and Allen, 5, who planned to do a little pheasant hunting. The plans were evidently carried out successfully, for they returned with one of the game birds.

And another "big game hunter" from Cotner Terrace is Jerry Rittenberg, who, so we hear, has added a deer head to his trophy room.

Mr. Rittenberg and two other Lincolnites, Bill DeRock and Richard Luft, traveled to the far north of the state last week for deer hunting near Springfield.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

During the "hunt," they were guests on the Marvin Williams ranch.

Planning a trip for next weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Hubbard, who will be visiting in Beatrice for a few days. During their visit, they will be the guests of Mrs. Hubbard's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Traubel.

It will a visit "back home" for Mrs. Hubbard, who has been residing in Lincoln for just eight months.

Before we try to close that revolving door for another week, we must tell you about a farewell party given for Cotner Terrace residents, Mr. and Mrs. William Duffield, last Saturday evening. The party for Mr. and Mrs. Duffield was a no-host affair for which a group of neighbors were hosts and hostesses at the Colonial Inn.

Bidding farewell to their neighbors who, right after Thanksgiving, are Omaha-bound with their sons, Billy, Mike, and Paul, were Mr. and Mrs. William Zinsmaster, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Wilhelm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ebert, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Duffield, Mr. and Mrs. Al Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill DaHarsh.

EASTBOROUGH

News from Eastborough this week is all about bridge! Mrs. Paul T. Branon was the hostess Saturday evening as she entertained three neighbors for an evening of dessert and cards. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Thomas Cain, Mrs. Roger Beamer, and Mrs. Miller Peeler.

And on Monday, Mrs. Eugene Alley took the hosting role and entertained several friends and neighbors at her evening bridge gathering. Mrs. Alley's guests included Mrs. J. B. McLeroy; Mrs. Dale West, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Joe Daniels, Mrs. Ed Sergi, Mrs. Paul Strunk, Mrs. Joseph Orear, Mrs. Harold Cleaver, Mrs. Joe Hamblin, Mrs. Walter Delaney, and Miss Barbara Prokop.

BISHOP HEIGHTS

And the last bit of news is of a birthday party which began in Bishop Heights and ended in Antelope Park. The party celebrated the sixth birthday of Master Todd Ludwick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Ludwick.

Todd and his guests, who included his sister and brothers, Carrie, Paul and Scott, rallied at the Ludwick home, and then proceeded to the park where they spent the afternoon with a picnic lunch and the familiar birthday party games.

State PTA Board Has Meeting

Reports on the PTA district conferences were discussed Tuesday afternoon at the fall meeting of state officers and district directors of the Nebraska Congress of PTA, held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Meeting all day Wednesday will be the state organization's board of managers, who will plan for the spring convention, to be held April 17 to 19, at Alliance.

Dear Abby

Better Turn In Your Suit

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A very popular boy at school (he is a basketball star) asked me out. And where did he take me? Parking! Then he bought me a malt at some dark, out-of-the-way drive-in where no one could see us. He did this four times. When a school dance came along he asked somebody else. When he sees me in the halls at school he acts like he doesn't even know me. I was hoping if I parked with him a few times he would get to like me well enough to ask me to some school dances, but it isn't working out that way. How can I get him to date me where we can be seen?

PARKED

DEAR PARKED: Apparently the boy is not proud to be seen with you. (And can you blame him?) You gave too much too soon. You'll never make his first string. Turn in your suit and get off his team. And let this be a lesson to you.

DEAR ABBY: Can I sue my husband for divorce for something that happened four years ago? I just found out for sure that my husband ran around with another girl in 1958. When I told him about it he said that unless you catch a person within a year of the crime, your warranty runs out. Is it true?

AZELIA

DEAR AZELIA: You did not marry a washing machine—you married a man. Warranties do not apply to people. But think it over. How has he been behaving since?

DEAR ABBY: I am glad you were big enough to make it clear that under no circumstances is anyone permitted to "involve" another by name in the Catholic confession. This old joke points it out.

An old shrew went to confession and spent the whole time complaining to the priest about her husband. She was flabbergasted and outraged when the priest gave HER a whopper of a penance and she was told to say several rosaries. The reply to her protest was, "Since YOU confessed your husband's sins, YOU get his penance."

ANOTHER CATHOLIC

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Why Grow Old?

Two Good Exercises

Josephine Lowman

I do not know why practically everyone seems to be busier than ever before. I always thought that when my children were grown I would have lots of leisure time. I thought I would be able to do my work without interruptions when I no longer had the responsibilities of a growing family. To the contrary, the pace is madder than ever!!

This seems to be true of everyone I know, perhaps because people take a part in more activities outside the home than they once did. Anyway, the exercise-figure-conscious woman always welcomes an exercise which is specific for more than one figure fault. My Combination Exercises are an answer to the press of time and to human procrastination.

The following exercise is slimming to the abdomen and the hips. Lie on the floor on your back, with your arms stretched out on the floor shoulder height, and legs stiff. Raise the legs up until they are at right angles to the body. Keep the hands firmly on the floor and the legs in the same position as you roll over onto your left side, legs landing on the floor. Now raise the legs and roll over onto the right side, legs landing on the floor. Continue. If you keep your hands on the floor this exercise will also do nice things for your waistline.

The following exercise is splendid for slimming the abdomen and the thighs and hips. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor away from your sides. Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. Straighten the left leg toward the ceiling. Now make a large circle (outward) as you bring the left leg down to place. Do the same thing with your right leg and continue, alternating.

Clubs Plan Activity

The members of the Zonta Club of Lincoln will resume their "big sister" project again this year when they entertain at an informal coffee on Sunday afternoon.

The project, one of the club's most successful, is to extend friendship and hospitality to foreign women students in the city, who, of course, will be the honored guests at the coffee.

The party will be held between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. William Grossman, 3635 No. 49th.

Entertaining at their annual Parents Day luncheon on Saturday will be the Alpha Xi Delta Mothers Club members. The pre-game luncheon will be held at 11:30 o'clock at the chapter house.

Mrs. Lloyd Chapman will be hostess on Thursday evening at her home, 3227 E.

Pershing Rd., to the members of the Delta Zeta Alumnae Club.

A business meeting will follow the 7:30 o'clock dessert supper.

Meeting Thursday afternoon will be the members of the Lotos Club who will be the guests of Miss Suzanna Jobst at her home, 1724 So. 21st.

A 1 o'clock luncheon will precede the program.

The November meeting of the JayCees will be held on Wednesday when the members, wives of Junior Chamber of Commerce members will meet for luncheon at the University Club.

Military Recognition Week will be observed, and a program on Christmas decorations and gifts will be presented.

"Never use self-polishing wax on wood floors!"

... says Henry M. Tobey, Research Director, world's largest hardwood floor maker

"Most self-polishing waxes are made primarily of synthetic plastics. They cannot be removed from wood floors without damaging the finish or the wood. The layers of old self-polishing wax pile up and your wood floor becomes darkened and discolored!"

The only wood floor care we do recommend is Bruce Cleaning Wax or Bruce Floor Cleaner. Both contain a combination of removable liquid paste wax and waterless wood floor cleaner. They clean; remove the old wax; and leave a rich, new coat of gleaming paste wax protection—all at the same time!

If you like a heavy coat of wax, use Bruce Cleaning Wax. For badly soiled floors and lighter waxing, you'll prefer Bruce Floor Cleaner. It's the right way to keep wood floors clean and bright!"

Devaney Recipient Of $200,000 Insurance Policy

... NO SOLICITATION ON NU COACH'S PART

BENEFITS EXPLAINED . . . Devaney (second from right) is told about insurance policy by Joe Yetman (from left), Bob McCracken, Glenn Yaussi, and Bus Whitehead.

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney, recipient of a $200,000 insurance policy which is to be paid for by Nebraska boosters, emphasized that he neither solicited it, nor has he been contacted by any school or conference about leaving the Cornhusker school.

"This is a real fine thing and I certainly appreciate it," Devaney told newsmen. "However, it did not come as a suggestion of mine."

"I don't want it to be offensive to the people of the state and if it is, I would rather not have it," he added.

Tuesday afternoon Devaney reiterated earlier statements

when he said, "I haven't been contacted by anyone, officially, unofficially or any other way, about leaving Nebraska — and that's on the level."

Premiums on the policy, designed to give the Husker coach additional financial security, will be paid by alumni and friends of the university. Annual premiums will approximate $9,000.

A 5-man group launched the insurance idea more than a month ago and the policy was put in force last Friday, prior to Nebraska's smashing 40-16 win over Kansas.

The leaders in the insurance drive are Phil Gerelick of Omaha, Ervin Hesselgesser of Central City, Robert McCracken of Lincoln, Milton E. Whitehead of Lincoln and Joe Yetman of Lincoln.

Yetman is the founder of the Extra Point Club, one of the NU booster groups which contributes money to the Husker athletic scholarship program.

While the fund-raising drive has not been officially started — it was reported that $400 was the first nucleus — Yetman reported Tuesday afternoon that he had been contacted by a Scottsbluff booster who promised "up to $2,500 from that area."

It was stressed by all concerned that the University of Nebraska is in no way involved with the policy and is in no way responsible for premiums.

Clay Stapleton of Iowa State has a fan-financed $100,000 policy with premiums of $2,800, while Dan Devine of Missouri has been covered by boosters for $150,000. Premiums for both are lower than Devaney's because of the age factor, Bob is 47.

Asked if he and his family were happy in Nebraska, Devaney replied: "Yes, of course, very much. After the problems involved in moving here, I have thought seriously about not ever doing it again."

"Whether we stay would depend on the happiness and success we have," he added.

Asked if coaching at Nebraska could be as attractive as at a Big 10 school, Bob said: "I would think with the schedules we have in the future and with the conference (Big 8) being one of the top ones in the country, I don't see any reason this couldn't be as good as any place."

Asked if he considered lack of security the chief hazard of a football coach, Bob said, "Security is real important. A coach many times is no longer at the height of his earning power when men in other jobs are. The duration of a coaching career is much shorter and the age cutoff is quicker than in most any other profession."

Mr. and Mrs. Devaney have a son and a daughter, both students at the University of Nebraska.

—TRACK AND FIELD AFFECTED— Coalition Formed By Feuding Units

New York (UPI)—Top officials of America's two ruling bodies in amateur sports Tuesday agreed to join in a track and field coalition, the first step in a "truce" that would allow this country's top athletes to compete in the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo.

events sanctioned by the rival group.

"This is the first time both sides have sat down in a spirit of cooperation to work this thing out," said Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee who presided at the marathon meetings Monday and Tuesday.

"This unity will provide the greatest track and field development we've ever had," Wilson added he was deeply indebted to Attorney General Robert Kennedy "for the contributions he made at these meetings."

Conference Set Up

Kennedy set up a conference between the disputants at Washington last month and then appeared at another meeting between the groups Monday night, remaining until 12:45 a.m.

Announcement of the preliminary agreement was made after a grand total of 19 hours of meetings, including 4 hours Tuesday, between the top brass of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Jockey Shrine Selects Brooks

Baltimore (AP)—Steve Brooks, a native of McCook, Neb., and the nation's leading money-winning and stakes-winning rider in 1949, was elected to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame Tuesday.

Winner of more than 3,900 races, Brooks was chosen by a two-vote margin over Bill Hartack in the balloting by race writers and turf authorities. Next, in order, came Charles Kurtsinger, Lavelle (Buddy) Ensor and Clarence Cummer, all deceased.

Brooks will be enshrined in the hall of fame at Pimlico Nov. 24.

It marked the first break in the dispute between these two groups for control of amateur athletics in the United States and was seen as setting a pattern that could clear the way for athletes in all major sports to be officially approved for Olympic competition.

ful suggestions shows how interested the whole country is in this matter," Wilson said.

Unofficial observers at Tuesday's meeting disclosed that basketball and gymnastics, two other sports that the NCAA and the AAU have been battling over for control, were not discussed at the conference.

"However, it is hoped that this track and field coalition will set the pattern for solving other disputes," one spokesman said.

The AAU is expected to wait until its annual convention at Detroit, Nov. 29-Dec. 2, to vote on ratification of the track and field coalition. The NCAA's annual convention will be held at Los Angeles, Jan. 7-9, but that group may resort to a mail vote for ratification in an effort to settle matters before the start of the indoor track season.

Raid Protection

Nebraska's Bob Devaney has become the 3rd football coach in the Big 8 to receive an insurance policy from admiring boosters.

Earlier Dan Devine of Missouri and Clay Stapleton of Iowa State were so honored.

In all 3 instances the reasoning was the same: we have a good coach, let's try to hang on to him by insuring his security.

There is nothing wrong with this since the boosters originated the idea and will put up the money for Devaney's $200,000 policy.

It would be wrong if Devaney had demanded such a whopping financial windfall as a condition of remaining at Nebraska. But no such thing happened. In fact that is the one thing that worries Bob—the possibility that Nebraskans will feel he's trying to hold 'em up.

With football coaching being as risky as it is, a man would be foolish to refuse such a substantial gift. So Devaney cannot be faulted. Rather, a group of fans want to and are doing something for Bob—he's not pressuring them to do it.

Departure Feared

Devaney's tremendous success at Nebraska understandably caused concern among boosters that he would be snapped up by a Big 10 school.

He still might be and the insurance policy won't guarantee his staying, of course, but it will undoubtedly make him weigh another offer quite carefully.

Rumors that Devaney would be approached by Big 10 schools have circulated for some time, although Bob reports he has not been contacted.

One of the rumors most frequently heard in recent weeks is that Michigan State athletic director Biggie Munn will go to Minnesota to succeed retiring Ike Armstrong, with Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty stepping up as AD and Devaney taking the MSU grid job. He's also been mentioned in connection with Michigan and Illinois.

Since Bob served at Michigan State and is a native of the region—plus the fact that it's a fine football school—Devaney probably would consider moving there.

But on the other hand, Bob has indicated he's happy at Nebraska, so maybe no offer would appeal to him. Since none has been made he hasn't been confronted with a choice.

If he ever has to make a choice—and with his record (42-11-5) he probably will—the insurance policy will be a factor. But in fairness to Bob, who has demonstrated humility, dedication to Nebraska football, and sincere friendliness to Nebraska people, I'm sure the policy will not be the only factor influencing his decision.

While a $200,000 insurance policy is nice to have, I think if Devaney makes his choice in favor of Nebraska—when and if he must decide—it will be more on the basis of how much he likes Nebraskans, enjoys his connection with the university and on prospects for continued success and happiness here rather than on the generous gift presented by Husker boosters.

In the meantime, I'm sure Devaney is deeply appreciative of this solid gesture of confidence, just as are the insurance donors and thousands of other Nebraskans are deeply appreciative of what Bob has done for Cornhuskerland.

Robertson Cited For Not Missing Practice

... THEN HE MISSES ONE

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska tackle Tyrone Robertson ranks as the top "unsung hero" on the Cornhusker squad—and he probably would have just as soon remained that way.

During his daily press conference Tuesday, Coach Bob Devaney was queried about Robertson by a writer seeking to do a feature story on the NU veteran.

"I think it's a good idea," Bob said. "Tyrone hasn't got much publicity and he certainly deserves some credit."

"Tyrone is a fine boy, the steadiest lineman—and he's done a fine job. He's been a starter from Sept. 1 and hasn't missed a practice or game."

Shortly after practice opened, Robertson—a 230-pound senior from Toledo, Ohio—had to leave the practice field, logging his first absence of the year.

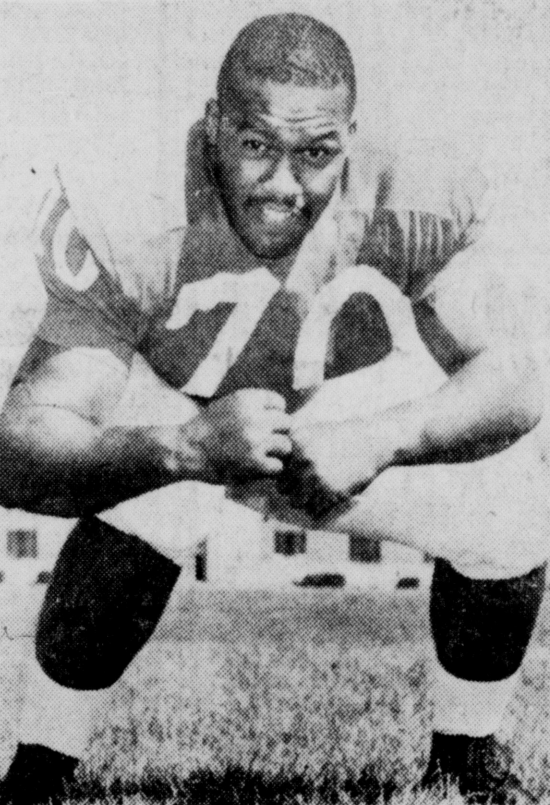

During group work with other linemen, Tyrone caught an elbow with his mouth—then headed for the dentist's office, minus two lower front teeth.

While Robertson probably wouldn't agree, there was no heavy contact work in the Husker camp Tuesday as the squad reviewed offense and defense for Oklahoma State.

"We feel this team (OSU) presents additional defensive problems," Devaney said. "They run out of the pro set, in addition to the wing T and Slot T employed by Missouri and Kansas."

Devaney predicted the Cowboys would have "the best passing attack we have faced all year," adding another note of concern that "for the first time since the start of the season, they're in top physical shape and will be coming up from a big victory over Army."

"We definitely are apprehensive about the outcome," Bob continued. "We

Cornhuskers Advance To 14th In UPI Voting

... SOUTHERN CAL TAKES LEAD

New York (UPI)—Southern California, rolling toward its first perfect-record football season since 1932, took over the No. 1 ranking Tuesday in the United Press International major college ratings.

Sporting a record of 7 victories in 7 tries and on the high road toward the Rose Bowl, coach John McKay's Trojans received a total of 311 points in the weekly voting of the 35 coaches who make up the UPI board of coaches.

Alabama and Mississippi, two of the other 3 perfect-record major teams in the country, were rated second and 3rd respectively while Dartmouth, the 4th unbeaten and untied major college eleven in the nation, did not receive a vote.

Fourth place went to Wisconsin, 5th to Texas, 6th to Missouri, 7th was shared by Northwestern and Minnesota, 9th place went to Arkansas and 10th to Louisiana State.

The second 10 was made up of Oregon, Penn State, Washington, NEBRASKA, Arizona State, Duke, Oklahoma, Purdue, Kansas and Georgia Tech.

Southern Cal, which had a 4-5-1 record in 1961 and hasn't enjoyed a perfect season since 1932 under the famed Howard Jones, was the No. 1 pick of 16 coaches and was picked no lower than No. 6.

Alabama, which has an 8-0 record, received 13 picks for the No. 1 spot and a total of 299 points. Third-place Mississippi had 3 first-place votes and 250 points and 4th place Wisconsin had two first-place votes and 240 points. Points are distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis beginning with 10 points for a first-place choice.

Wisconsin, of course, rose from No. 7 to No. 4 on the strength of its 37-6 victory over Northwestern, which was the nation's leading team in the previous week's ratings.

ings. Northwestern fell all the way from the No. 1 ranking to a tie for No. 7 with Minnesota.

Southern California is the 4th team which has topped the UPI ratings so far this season. Previously ranked No. 1 in the nation were Ohio State, Texas and Northwestern.

LIBERTY BOWL CONSIDERS NU

Philadelphia (AP)—Scouts for the Liberty Bowl will watch eight college football games this week, President Bud Dudley said Tuesday.

The games are Air Force-Baylor, Auburn-Georgia, Boston College-Boston University, Duke-Wake Forest, Holy Cross-Penn State, Missouri-Oklahoma, Nebraska-Oklahoma State and Army-Pittsburgh.

Dudley said Oklahoma, Missouri and Nebraska of the Big 8 Conference and at least 4 Southeastern Conference teams — Auburn, Louisiana State, Florida and Georgia Tech — are on the bowl's consideration list. Arkansas, TCU, Texas A&M and Texas of the Southwest Conference were named as other possibilities.

The Southwest Conference champion is committed to the Cotton Bowl and the Big 8 champion to the Orange Bowl. Other teams from the conferences, however, are allowed to compete in other bowls.

Southern California, which claims a total of 31 national sports championships in its rich athletic heritage, started the 1962 campaign as something of a question mark in view of two consecutive losing seasons.

The Trojans defeated Duke, 14-7; Southern Methodist, 33-3; Iowa, 7-0; California, 32-6; Illinois, 28-16; Washington, 14-0, and Stanford, 39-14. They have UCLA and Notre Dame remaining on their schedule.

Mike Thinks Dad Will Be At NU 'Quite A While'

If a father wasn't kidding his son, coach Bob Devaney will be at Nebraska University "for quite a while."

"I think he's looking for security at his age, and this insurance policy is a lot of security," Devaney's 20-year-old son, Mike, said.

Nebraska fans announced Tuesday they were taking out a $200,000 life insurance policy as an inducement to keep Devaney happy.

Devaney, 47, had a lot of supporters seeking such a policy when he was head coach at Wyoming University, according to Mike.

"Everybody talked about it but nothing ever happened," Mike said.

"When dad took over here it came up again. He said he would just wait and see. If he got it fine, and if not that would be fine too."

Mike, junior student in chemistry at Nebraska, said it's his impression, based on the things fathers and sons talk over, that Devaney will not be lured away by a larger school.

Mike admitted his father has fond memories of his early life and coaching career in Michigan. But he said all the Devanys are proud of Nebraska.

Mike feels his father wants to stick around and lead the Huskers into a better football era.

How did the policy news affect his father?

"Dad told us the other day he doesn't want anybody sneaking up on him anymore."

Three Provisions On Bob Devaney's Policy

There are 3 main provisions in the 18-page insurance contract drawn up by Nebraska boosters to supply football coach Bob Devaney with a $200,000 insurance policy.

Here is a breakdown of provisions in capsule form:

1. If at the date of his death, Devaney is still head football coach at the University of Nebraska, the entire amount of the policy goes into a trust fund for his family.
2. If the University of Nebraska terminates Devaney's employment as head football coach by either demoting or promoting him, or if he reaches retirement age at the University of Nebraska, or if funds cannot be raised to pay the premiums, the trustees will convert the policy to paid up insurance. This can be held until Devaney's death and the proceeds paid to the family or it can be cashed in and paid to the family, as in the case of his retirement.
3. If Devaney should leave Nebraska on his own volition prior to 1968, then the trustees cash in the policy and Devaney gets nothing. The cash value can be held for the next Nebraska football coach or go to the University of Nebraska Foundation for benefit of the athletic department. If he leaves in 1968, the policy will be converted to paid up insurance and the face value reduced by 90% and his family at his death would get 10% of the face value. If he leaves in 1969, the face value would be reduced by 70% and the family would get 30% of the face value. If he leaves in 1970, the policy would be reduced by 40% and the family would receive 60% of the face value. If he leaves after 1970, the policy would be converted to paid up life and the family gets 100% of face value at his death.

The actual cash value of the policy will increase considerably over the 20-year period. If Devaney were fired by the University, here are the approximate cash values of the policy:

Income Tax Change Requires Notebooks

(EDITORS NOTE: There are going to be some changes Jan. 1 in the Federal Income Tax Law covering expense account deductions. It would be a good idea for the taxpayer planning to claim deductions for expense accounts to keep a notebook handy so he will have a detailed record. This is the first of 3 articles telling of the tax law changes.)

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
New York, (AP) — If you are going to claim federal income tax deductions for travel, entertainment and business gifts, the best investment you can make in 1963 is a notebook.

The Internal Revenue Service, acting under the new 1962 tax law, is going to demand detailed reports to support expense account claims.

In the past, businessmen have been allowed to estimate their travel and entertainment expenses and lump them under some general classification such as administration or sales promotion.

When the IRS, seeking to track down cheaters, questioned a return, a businessman often could make a good case for himself because of the vagueness of the old tax law. He wasn't required to substantiate the amounts as long as he could reasonably show that such expenses were "ordinary" and "necessary" in carrying out his business.

'Demanding'
The new law, which takes effect Jan. 1 and applies to returns for 1963, will, in the words of Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer Caplin, be "quite demanding."

No deduction will be allowed for any separate deduction claim for entertainment, travel or business gifts of more than $10 unless the taxpayer proves by record or evidence:

- The amount, time and place.
- The business purpose.
- The business relationship between the taxpayer and the person entertained or the recipient of a gift.

The taxpayer won't have to submit the records with his return but he must have them available to support his claim if it is examined.

Receipts, Stubs
He will have to produce hotel receipts and transportation stubs. It would be a good idea to have receipts for meals. The purpose and circumstances of the expenditures should be noted in a diary at the time of the expenditure. A satisfactory notation might be:

"Jan. 20, Savoy Hotel, lunch with John Doe, Vice President of Doe Co., re order for machinery — $12.50."

"Although the rules have been imposed by congress, it is not telling the people how to spend their money," Caplin commented. "The only issue congress has raised is whether it is deductive."

Another IRS official said the average business man "usually keeps a fair set of records but he will have to do better."

"For a man who has a good accountant it won't mean much extra work. But the man who hasn't kept records in the past is going to have to change. It's going to be tough for those who don't keep records."

May Nix Clubs

One lawyer said he considered the record requirement so stringent that some business men may quit trying to claim country club expenses as deductions.

In the first place, to get any deductions at all, the taxpayer will have to prove that club facilities were used more than 50 per cent for business. That means records will have to be kept not only on business visits to the club but on personal visits — including every time the kids go for a swim — to show the percentage of total cost that can be allotted to business.

Wives are liable to miss some of the trips they have been enjoying on expense accounts. Beginning next year, the taxpayer will have to show that her presence serves some bona fide business purpose. Nor will the taxpayer be permitted to take a deduction for entertaining his business guest's wife and children because their expenses aren't directly related to business.

The direct relationship provision is, in some cases, going to be difficult to establish. If a businessman takes another to a football game and claims an entertainment deduction, can he get away with saying they discussed business between halves?

Council Shifts Sidewalk Plan

The City Council Tuesday proposed an enlarged sidewalk district to include 31st to 27th, Calvert to Sheridan, in killing a proposed district just for 31st.

The law and engineering departments were directed to prepare a new ordinance for the enlarged district for council introduction next Monday.

"I don't like the idea that a 1925 city ordinance (requiring sidewalks in this area) is being ignored," said Councilman Robert Fulton in calling for a larger district.

Councilman John Comstock suggested "a general ordinance requiring sidewalks all over town."

He suggested this overall approach rather than piecemeal legislation for areas lacking sidewalks, adding: "If sidewalks are needed in some areas, they're needed in all areas."

City Atty. Ralph Nelson reported two subdivisions within the proposed sidewalk district were platted with the ordinance requirement that sidewalks be constructed by 1926.

He noted irregularities in 3 other plats, but said sidewalks could be required under current ordinances.

City Engineer Carl Fisher presented sidewalk location plans for both sides of 31st from Sheridan to Calvert.

Because of right-of-way width variations (75 to 48 feet) for 31st, Fisher said sidewalk alignment would vary from touching the property line to the normal 4-foot line.

He said the alignment would avoid damage to most of the trees and cause the "least damage" in grade problems.

In other action, the council indefinitely postponed a sidewalk district for South Cotner from O to Randolph.

Postponement was recommended until widening plans for Cotner from O to M in connection with the East O widening project from 50th to 63rd can be completed.

The council indicated a new sidewalk district ordinance for Cotner would be introduced after the East O and Cotner intersection plans are completed.

Fisher said a sidewalk alignment two feet from the property line would save most trees and no major grade problems would be encountered.

Zone Change Is Approved For Law Firm

The City Council Tuesday approved "restricted commercial" zoning for a proposed law office building at the northeast corner of 13th and G.

The law firm of Baylor, Evnen, Baylor and Urborn proposed a one-story building on the site with off-street parking.

Also approved was "local business" zoning for two residential lots at the northwest corner of 65th and Dudley. The other corners already are zoned for business.

Introduced on first reading were two improvement districts for opening R from 56th to 58th, and 52nd from O to R. Action was deferred one week on an ordinance renewing the transit bus franchise of Lincoln City Lines for another 20 years, beginning Oct. 19, 1963.

Council action on other ordinances:

—Introduced, 1st Reading

—Sewer district for Linden from 56th to 58th.

—Rural and public use zoning for a 300-by-600-foot tract some 600 feet west of Hwy. 77 (South 14th) and south of the Penitentiary.

—Building Code amendment to permit use of certain plastic panels for skylights and decorative purposes in walls and roofs.

—Fire Code amendment to permit use of certain plastic panels within specified fire districts.

—Water district for Woodland Ave. from 51st to 52nd.

—Passed, 3rd Reading

—Corrected plat of Maple Village First Addition near 84th and O.

—Highway commercial zoning of a 300-by-600-foot tract on Hwy. 77 (South 14th) near the state penitentiary. Tract is owned by Irvin Bakin.

—Vacation of part of 31st south of N.

—Amendment to "local business" zoning code to permit dry cleaning plants.

All council members were present for the regular meeting.

There were no reports of damage or casualties.

TRAILER TANGLES WITH TRAIN

These are the remains of a 50-foot trailer house whose side was torn away Tuesday when it tangled with a Chicago & North Western engine where the railroad crosses Cornhusker Hwy. east of 27th. Herbert Gadberry, 24, of Spenard, Alaska, was driving the truck pulling the trailer, owned by J. J. Growley of 4000 Cornhusker, to California. Train engineer Charles O. Smith, 41, of Fremont, saw the truck could not stop; he hit the emergency brake and was completely stopped when the trailer caught on the engine.

Turk Development Value Stressed

Values in the University of Nebraska Turkish college development program were underscored Tuesday to an NU Faculty Senate meeting by a former chief advisor to the program.

The speaker was Dr. Marvel L. Baker, professor of animal husbandry, who returned this fall from his second tour of duty as dean of the mission.

Strategic values initially played an important role in the U.S. government's decision to approve the Turkish request for assistance in agricultural development, he noted.

Desirable Pattern

Investigations by both Turkish and U.S. experts led to the conclusion the development of universities patterned after NU's agricultural college would be desirable, he said.

Illusions about foreign aid which had to be abandoned, according to Dr. Baker, included beginning with a detailed, concrete agreement about what should be done.

Such an agreement, he pointed out, is unwise, particularly at the outset of a program, when neither country realizes all that must be done.

Furthermore, he pointed out, governments should be recognized as free agents.

Economic Key

Dr. Baker explained emphasis in agriculture is necessary in such a country as Turkey, where it is the most important industry and thus the key to economic development.

The outlook, he emphasized, is not all black. Atatürk University graduated its first class in July 1962, and many young Turks are taking responsibility.

No funds of the University of Nebraska are being used for the Atatürk project, he stressed; it and Ankara University have Agency for International Development support.

70% Bumper Corn Crop, All Of Milo Harvested

Virtually all of the milo and approximately 70% of Nebraska's bumper corn crop had been harvested as of last weekend, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

Mild, open weather the past week permitted full scale field operations, the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics pointed out.

Storage facilities have been taxed to handle the milo crop and considerable grain has been piled on the ground at shipping points.

Moisture content of corn remains rather high in some northeastern counties.

Use of picker-shellers has been widespread in the central and western area and high yields have filled bin storage on many farms. Some farmers are resorting to pickers and cribbing the corn.

Other crop report observations:

The soybean crop is largely in the bin and yields have been generally satisfactory except where weeds were heavy.

Some sugar beets remain to be lifted in central Nebraska.

Winter wheat has made exceptional top growth this fall but weather conditions have encouraged red rust and the rust appears in most fields over the state. Hessian fly infestation also is quite prevalent in southern counties.

Wheat Growth Heavy

Heavy top growth of wheat is putting a heavy demand on soil moisture supplies and a general rain would be beneficial.

Farmers are turning livestock into stalk fields and the excellent growth of winter wheat is providing an abundance of feed for cattle.

Pasture and range feed is plentiful but is becoming dry and brittle. Rains would improve palatability and help prevent range fires.

Livestock are in good condition. Movement of feeder cattle is nearing an end.

Airport Authority Notified B Avenue Bridge Complete

The Airport Authority Wednesday was advised the B Avenue bridge near the south entrance to Lincoln Air Force Base is now complete. The board also was advised preliminary floor plans for the proposed FAA-General Aviation building at Lincoln Municipal Airport are complete and have been submitted for federal review.

The board's consulting engineers reported alternate bid specifications are being prepared for two large maintenance-storage hangars plus 30 small T-hangars.

The large hangar, 150-by-150-feet, could hold 20 large and small aircraft, ranging in sizes upwards to a DC-3.

Atty. Chauncey Barney, the authority's counsel, said the Federal Aviation Agency is being asked to review its participation on the railroad relocation contract in view of a recent favorable District Court decision.

The court held the authority was on legal grounds in rejecting the bid of the W. A. Smith Contracting Co. because of a defect in the proposal form and accepting the $323,868 bid of Roberts Construction Co. The federal agency had advised 50% federal participation would not be provided on the $8,993 difference between the Smith and Roberts bids.

Tenant Moves Out; Furniture Goes Too

Police were told Tuesday by Action Realty, Inc., that a tenant moving out of one of their homes over the weekend removed all the furniture from the house at 2300 Lynn.

Among the missing items were a bedroom set, 40-inch gas stove, refrigerator, dining room table and 6 chairs, couch and matching chair, and a platform rocker, for a total loss of about $100.

McLain: 'Congress Passed Worst Wheat Bill'

Former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Marvin McLain told the Nebraska farm Bureau Federation Tuesday evening that he thinks Congress passed the worst version of a wheat bill ever made into law.

"I'm willing to bet it won't carry in a referendum," said McLain, now assistant legislative director of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

He termed inflation one of the serious domestic problems facing the farmer and all Americans.

Costs Hurt Farmers

"Farmers have been hurt more by rising costs than falling prices," he added.

He said the all-time high for net farm income was $17.3 billion in 1947, when gross income was $34.4 billion compared to a 1961 gross of $39.9 billion that was pulled down by farm production costs to a net of $12.8 billion.

McLain said the main objective of the Farm Bureau was to earn and obtain high per-family income in a manner to preserve freedom of choice in agriculture.

Concerning federal farm programs, McLain indicated the answer was in a sane voluntary program of price support in a climate in which the federal budget and the power of economic groups are balanced.

"Our big job is not in Washington; it is right here in the counties and the state with your leaders of Farm Bureau. You and your neighbors who vote and elect your congressmen and senators are the ones given real consideration when votes are cast," he maintained.

Several deep-frozen chickens and two piggy banks were stolen from Cecil C. Callahan's home at 2815 J, police said Tuesday.

The culprit apparently used a key to get in, officers noted. Callahan's loss was $45.50. In addition, police said, someone crawled into Hazel C. Hansher's house at 720 So. 28th and ransacked it. Nothing was reported missing.
